Impeachment panel OKs participation

St. Clair wins probe role

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee, clearing the way for the crucial phase of its impeachment inquiry, has given President Nixon's lawyer a major role in the proceedings.

Under rules approved unanimously by the committee Thursday, White House lawyer James St. Clair will be able to question witnesses, raise objections and propose witnesses.

The rules and the Democratic majority's support of them helped restore harmony in the committee after its party-line split Wednesday when Nixon was found in non-compliance with the committee's subpoena for Watergate tapes.

Adoption of the rules marked the final step in the long preparation for receiving evidence that the committee has been engaged in since January. Starting next week it will begin examining the information on which it will base a judgment as to whether Nixon should be impeached.

The rules include a provision permitting hearings to be televised if the committee decides to open them to the public. Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the first week of the hearings would be closed.

Those first four or five days will be taken up by a presentation to the committee of the secret grand jury evidence relating to Nixon's role in the Watergate cover-up and other information covering a wide range of alleged presidential misconduct.

The committee's ornate hearing room will be fitted out with electronic equipment to permit the playing of tapes, so that each of the 38 members has his own headset and set of transcripts.

Although Nixon refused to give the committee the 42 tapes it subpoenaed April 11, furnishing edited transcripts instead, he previously had turned over 19 tapes that already had been given to the Watergate grand jury. These include the controversial March 21 tape of Nixon's conversation with his former counsel, John W. Dean III.

The role given to St. Clair makes it clear that he is subject to the control of the committee and has no independent right to be present.

KSU group bares claim of spying

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Documents which a Kent State University student group said outlined "plans for a massive federally funded intelligence network" were displayed by the group at a news conference Thursday.

The group, calling itself the Organizing Committee for the Fifth Estate, said the alleged network was used to spy on political groups and public figures on the university campus. It added that what it said was called the Ohio Master Plan was "engineered by former Kent State Security Director James L. Fyke."

Fyke resigned effective last June 30 and is now an instructor in a police training program at Central Illinois College in Peoria, Ill.

He said in Peoria that at least one of the committee's spokesmen was a plaintiff in a suit filed against Fyke about 18 months ago in which similar allegations were made.

"Since I'm a defendant, I'm constrained against commenting, and they know that," Fyke added. "The bulk is restatement of the lawsuit they filed against me."

He said the federal funds the group mentioned were for the Portage County Emergency Communications Network, a police radio network for emergencies interconnecting area agencies and used for tornado alerts, coordinating manhunt and similar matters.

Dean testimony OK, solons say

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ranking Republican and Democrat on the Senate Watergate committee say presidential transcripts largely corroborate the sworn testimony of John W. Dean III despite White House claims that he is a liar.

In separate statements, Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and Vice Chairman Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said Thursday the transcripts tend to bolster the credibility of Dean, the former White House counsel who became President Nixon's chief accuser.

At a Philadelphia news conference, Baker also said the committee's final report may be delayed beyond the May 28 target date because the transcripts have opened "new lines of inquiry—including the search for possible perjury by Nixon's associates at last summer's hearings."

In Washington, Ervin described the transcripts as "revealing and astounding" and said they "very strongly corroborate" Dean's Watergate testimony.

He contended the transcripts cast a sole right of impeachment, but historically counsel for the subject of the inquiry has been granted some opportunity to participate.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the rules, said they were based on a desire to be fair to Nixon. Rep. Thomas F. Rainsback, R-Ill., ranking Republican on the subcommittee, praised the Democrats for their support, saying they had "leaned over backward" to assure St. Clair's participation.

However, some Democrats said they felt the committee was being too generous. Rep. George E. Danielson, D-Calif., tried to eliminate St. Clair's right to raise objections, saying the committee was giving St. Clair the opportunity to turn what should be a fact-finding investigation into a full-scale trial.

But Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., citing past impeachment proceedings in which counsel for the person under investigation was allowed to take part, said "it is better to let St. Clair become the 39th member of the committee than to deny him his procedural rights."

'Somebody lying' in ethics probe

By TERESA C. PITTS
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More investigation is needed to determine who's lying about who paid for and distributed unethical campaign material about U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Thursday.

Brown postponed a ruling on the allegation Thursday after listening to conflicting statements from at least seven witnesses, most of them connected with the campaign staff of John G. Glenn, Metzenbaum's opponent for the May 7 Democratic nomination.

"Somebody is lying somewhere. There's definitely perjury," Brown said after the five-hour hearing.

He said another hearing will be held probably within two weeks after the primary. Meanwhile, transcript's of Thursday's session will be turned over to the attorney general for possible filing of criminal charges, Brown said.

Two former Glenn campaign workers in Mahoning County have accused the candidate of surreptitious distribution of campaign material linking Metzenbaum to President Nixon's tax troubles and to Communist front groups. Neither items listed sources, which is against state law.

Don L. L. Hanni Jr., formerly Glenn's Mahoning County coordinator, told the panel of election board members some 500 copies of a bumper sticker saying "Nixon Metzenbaum-Tax Consultants" were delivered to the Youngstown headquarters April 12.

The delivery was made by Gary Vigorito, Glenn's northeastern Ohio coordinator, along with instructions not to reveal its source, Hanni testified.

Later, Vigorito, under oath, testified he knew nothing about the bumper stickers. He submitted a list of witnesses whom he said could verify his presence in Columbus all day April 12.

Hanni testified he at no time personally distributed either the bumper sticker nor a letter said was given him April 20 to circulate titled, "New U.S. Senator Has Red Front Group Record."

Hanni's statements were substantiated by a fellow former campaign worker, George Skaljac of Youngstown, who said he quit the Glenn staff April 20 in protest of the literature.

Both denied personal distribution, or

William R. Brown, a school teacher from North Lima, testified later that Hanni had given him at least 20 copies of the bumper sticker for use in his state government classes.

At the time, Brown said Hanni mentioned the stickers came from an organization "that sounded something like RAFT." Brown said he learned later that RAFT is short for Rank And File Team, an unofficial political information arm of the United Steel Workers.

Another Mahoning County worker, Gary Litch, testified that he had been given bumper stickers to circulate as early as April 9.

But Litch denied reports that the materials came from RAFT. Litch's father, William Litch, is head of the organization.

Litch said Hanni and Skaljac had been unhappy with assistance they were getting from Glenn's state headquarters.

On the night of April 20, Litch said Hanni and Vigorito had quarreled and

Oil association sues Metzenbaum for $11 million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Petroleum Marketers Association and Parmar Oil Co. of Marietta filed suit today against U.S. Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, charging he made slanderous statements against the oil industry.

The suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court asks for $1 million in compensatory damages and $10 million in punitive damages.

The suit comes just four days before Ohio's May 7 primary election, in which Metzenbaum faces opposition from the Democratic nomination.

The association is a trade organization composed of distributors of oil products. Parmar is one of its members.

The suit is a class action suit on behalf of all oil distributors.

The distribution industry said Metzenbaum, in April, was responsible for publication of numerous "false, defamatory and libelous statements concerning the plaintiffs, tending to subject them to public hatred and contempt."

The industry said Metzenbaum, in radio and television campaign commercials, had used statements to the effect that the marketers of petroleum products had "raped the public."

"Defendant, as a member of the United States Senate, will know that the prices of petroleum products are controlled by the federal government and that the price of said products from refiner to service station operator is established by the United States government and not by the seller of said products," the industry argued.

The Standard Oil Co. of Ohio has been a main target of Metzenbaum's criticism. The senator earlier this week asked the Federal Energy Office to investigate a 6-cent per gallon gasoline price hike ordered by Sohio.

Metzenbaum, however, has blamed the entire industry for rising fuel costs and the energy crises.

The OPMA members are independent businessmen who purchase their products from the major oil companies and resell them to retail service station dealers and other retailers of petroleum products.

At a news conference, Roger F. Dreyer, executive vice president of the OPMA, said there were "no political motives" behind the lawsuit.

"He accused us of rape on television," Dreyer added.

Dreyer said the OPMA office here had been swamped by telephone calls from irate members as a result of Metzenbaum's attacks on television and in the press.

Metzenbaum's news secretary, John Esposito, said, "I would point out that Mr. Roger Dreyer, who is director of the petroleum marketers, is a financial contributor to John Glenn's campaign. I don't really know enough about the suit to comment at the moment."

"Certainly, every citizen of Ohio has evidence to back up the claim made in April," Esposito said.

"I think this may shed some light on why Mr. Glenn has been reluctant to attack oil companies," Esposito said.

Glenn is Metzenbaum's opponent for the Democratic nomination.

Transcript shows 2nd burglary

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's tape transcripts indicate that the White House Plumbers did pull a Las Vegas burglary, contrary to testimony given to the Senate Watergate committee.

Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt told the committee last Sept. 24 that he and another member of the secret White House intelligence-gathering unit that became known as the Plumbers planned to burglarize the office of Las Vegas Publisher Hank Greenspun.

But, Hunt said, the burglary never came off.

In the White House tape transcripts, presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman said it did.

Purpose of the burglary, according to Hunt's testimony, was to get some information on Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine which reportedly would cripple Muskie's fledgling presidential campaign.

The planning took place, Hunt indicated, between December 1971 and March 1972.

Hunt said the plan was formulated with the help of representatives of millionaire Howard Hughes who also wanted some material reported to be in Greenspun's safe.

He testified that the Hughes people promised to give the Plumbers such support services as hotel rooms and automobiles.

The plan never worked, Hunt said because the Hughes people refused to give the would-be burglars an escape airplane.

Glenn wins Jackie Onassis' endorsement

By The Associated Press

John Glenn received an endorsement from Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Thursday and U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum courted United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock as the race for the Democratic Senate nomination entered the stretch.

The two candidates were to have their final face-to-face confrontation today in a noontime debate before the Cleveland City Club. Both planned to spend the rest of the day wooing votes in Cleveland.

A Glenn aide said words of support from Mrs. Onassis, widow of President John F. Kennedy and now the wife of Greek shipping magnate Aristotle

Onassis, will be broadcast in radio and television commercials "as soon as possible."

In a message taped over the telephone from her New York City apartment, Mrs. Onassis said, "John Glenn's leadership would be a shining light in the United States Senate."

She said she and all Americans remember when the former astronaut "became our national hero, when he made us feel pride in America that we had not felt for a long time."

Mrs. Onassis spoke on the telephone with Jim Dunn, a former aide to her brother-in-law, the late U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy, who was assassinated in 1968.

She told Dunn, "I have never done anything political for anyone before, but I feel that both I and the country have an obligation to John Glenn."

Metzenbaum appeared with Woodcock at a news conference at Cleveland's Burke Lakefront Airport and then accompanied him to Ashtabula for a tour of several plants where workers are represented by UAW locals.

Woodcock expressed pleasure that Metzenbaum "has taken on the oil industry." He said gasoline price increases "had a disastrous effect on the auto industry," causing a 14.7 per cent rise in unemployment in the industry. Metzenbaum lashed out again at Standard Oil of Ohio for its latest price increases, saying it will "take almost $8 million more out of the pockets of Ohio motorists... on an annual basis."

He questioned "how Sohio can be permitted to raise prices six cents a gallon by citing changes in the cost of crude oil, while Ashland Oil Co. is reducing prices, also citing crude oil costs?"

Metzenbaum said he was continuing to talk with Federal Energy Office officials and had been told the agency would investigate Sohio.

In addition, he said he plans to co-sponsor with Sen. Henry Jackson, D-

ZEBRA SUSPECT COVERS UP — One of seven blacks arrested by San Francisco, Calif., police as suspects in the 12 Zebra killings, covers his head with a jacket as he is led past newsmen in the city's Hall of Justice by two plain-clothes officers in white hats.

4 suspects freed in Zebra probe: lack of evidence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four of seven men arrested in connection with a wave of "Zebra" murders here have been freed for lack of evidence, police say.

Police Sgt. William Kearny identified those freed Thursday night as Thomas Manney, 31, a star football player at San Francisco State University in the early 1960s; Clarence Jamerson, 37; Dwight Stallings, 28; and Edgar Burton, 22.

They had been booked for investigation of conspiracy to commit murder.

Kearny said the four were released because it became evident "during the course of the investigation that no further procedures against them are feasible at this time."

He said Chief of Inspectors Charles Barca planned a news conference on the matter today.

But formal murder and other charges had been filed against the three other men still in custody—Larry C. Green, 22; J.C. Simon, 29; and Manuel Moore, 29, police said. They are to appear Monday before a county grand jury.

Maryland court disbars Agnew

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Calling Spiro T. Agnew morally obtuse, the Maryland Court of Appeals has prohibited the former vice president from practicing law.

"It is difficult to feel compassion for an attorney who is so morally obtuse that he consciously cheats for his own pecuniary gain that government he has sworn to serve, completely disregards the words of the oath he uttered when first admitted to the bar and absolutely fails to perceive his professional duty to act honestly in all matters," the court said.

The state's highest court disbarred Agnew on Thursday because he pleaded no contest last October to a charge he evaded about $13,500 in federal taxes when he was governor of Maryland in 1967.

Agnew was not a member of the federal bar, and his disbarment in Maryland prevents his practicing law elsewhere.

The ruling affirmed a recommendation in January by a three-judge circuit court panel which heard the case brought against Agnew by the Maryland Bar Association.

Agnew, who was unavailable for comment, cannot appeal the decision but could petition the court for reinstatement as a lawyer at any time,

Massive Penn Central fraud cost billions, SEC claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has accused the Penn Central Co. and two of its former officers of scheming in 1968 and 1969 to defraud investors in the then-newly-formed Penn Central railroad.

The SEC complaint, filed in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia, alleges the defendants sought to inflate earnings and hide losses to disguise the critical financial condition of the railroad. It claims the defendants even borrowed money to pay cash dividends as part of the scheme.

Named in the civil complaint—no criminal charges are involved—are the Penn Central Co., Stuart T. Saunders of Ardmore, Pa., former chief executive officer of the company; and David C. Bevan of Gladwyne, Pa., a former top financial officer of Penn Central.

Fourteen other defendants also are named, among them the New York accounting firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., which the SEC said aided in preparing false and misleading financial statements for the company.

The Penn Central railroad collapsed in 1970—two years after it was formed through the merger of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central. It has been run since 1970 by trustees while undergoing reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

The SEC complaint alleges that collapse of the railroad cost shareholders and investors billions of dollars.

In addition to the fraud complaint, the SEC charged Bevan and three others with diverting $4 million in corporate funds to private bank accounts in the tiny European country of Lichtenstein.

It also alleged that Bevan violated federal securities laws by selling 15,000 shares in the railroad in 1969 at a time he was aware of the company's critical financial position but the public was not.

Xavier students routed by blaze

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — More than 200 Xavier University students were routed from Husman Hall by fire Thursday.

Damage to the building and its lounge was estimated at $50,000. The fire was blamed on careless smoking.

Xavier officials said Husman Hall's fire alarm has been out of service since Good Friday because of a part malfunction. Assistant deans had to alert the students.

Nuisance law upheld by court

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's nuisance law was upheld Thursday in a decision by a three-judge panel in U.S. District Court.

The law was challenged by a number of local book stores padlocked by local authorities for allegedly selling pornographic material.

officials of the court of appeals said.

In a unanimous 13-page opinion from the seven judges, the court said it considered tax evasion a crime involving moral turpitude, fraud and deceit and as such required disbarment under state law, court rulings and the ethical rules of the American Bar Association.

The judges said they found no mitigating circumstances to grant requests by Agnew and his lawyer, Leon H.A. Pierson, that the former public official merely be suspended from practicing law, his profession before entering politics full time in 1962.

The judges said failure to disbar Agnew would be a travesty of their responsibility to uphold the integrity of the legal profession and prevent individual lawyers from hurting its image.

Agnew, who was fined $10,000 and placed on three years probation by the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, had asked the circuit court panel last December to leave him with the means to earn a living.

Since then, he has announced he is writing a novel about the vice presidency. Persons in the publishing industry have predicted the book should earn Agnew $100,000 or more.

The Weather

The commission asked the court to order Bevan to refund profits from the stock transactions and, along with defendants Fidel Goetz of West Germany, Joseph Rosenbaum of McLean, Va., and Francis Rosenbaum, whom the SEC said currently was incarcerated on other charges in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., to account for and refund the $4 million.

By The Associated Press
A weather system that has been bringing showers to Ohio is scheduled to end today—but only briefly before a chance of showers and thundershowers returns to the state late Friday as a cold front approaches from the northwest.

Temperatures Friday are scheduled to climb into the 70s in all sections ahead of the advancing cool air. The cold front is expected to enter the state from the northwest Friday afternoon and march across Ohio by sometime tonight. Temperatures drop rather rapidly behind the front as the cold air is brought down from Canada by brisk northwest winds.

The mercury will fall tonight into the upper 30s in the northern counties and the 40s over the rest of the state.

Saturday will come under the influence of high pressure. Mostly sunny skies and cool temperatures are expected. Highs Saturday will range from the low 50s in the north to the low 60s in the south.

A chance of showers are forecast Sunday and Monday, followed by fair skies Tuesday. Highs will range from the 60s to low 70s. Lows will be in the upper 30s and the 40s.

Frost nips midsection

By The Associated Press
Frost nipped parts of the nation's midsection today, while high winds whistled across the Plains.

A cold front moved into the upper Great Lakes region, the middle Mississippi Valley and the central Plains and sent the mercury below freezing in parts of the north-central states.

Winds gusted to 73 m.p.h. at Yankton, S.D., and hit 59 m.p.h. at Hill City, Kan., and 45 m.p.h. at Kansas City.

Scattered showers and thundershowers continued to dampen the central Plains and upper Great Lakes, and drizzle misting over the Ohio Valley turned to light rain from the Appalachians to the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Occasional thundershowers also soaked parts of the Gulf Coast. A chartered bus skidded off Interstate 75 during a rainstorm Thursday night near Cassville, Ga., injuring a dozen persons in a school group returning home to Michigan from Disney World. None was hurt seriously.

Most of the Pacific Coast was under clouds, but clear skies prevailed in the Plateau, the Rockies, Northern and Southern Plains and New England.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 at Laramie, Wyo., to 81 at Needles, Calif.

Milk money testimony disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the nation's largest dairy cooperative allegedly tried to pay $150,000 to presidential fund-raiser Herbert L. Kalmbach to reduce a government antitrust suit to a "wrist slap," according to a statement filed in court.

The charge in the court document was attributed to Bob A. Lilly, former lobbyist for Associated Milk Producers Inc.

Lilly also was quoted in the statement as saying that top officials of the organization told him up to $2 million had been pledged earlier to President Nixon's campaign as a "commitment of money made in conjunction with the 1971 price support" increase ordered by Nixon.

The 1971 price increase and the government's still-pending antitrust lawsuit both are subjects of the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry. The committee is said to be requesting 45 White House tape recordings related to the price-support decision.

Lilly testified under immunity last year before the Senate Watergate Committee and a Watergate grand jury. Subsequently he was interviewed Dec. 27 and 28 by Edward L. Wright, a former president of the American Bar Association who was conducting an independent inquiry for the cooperative's board of directors.

Typewritten notes of the Lilly interview became public this week after the Justice Department antitrust division subpoenaed Wright's notes and papers.

Lilly's quoted statement is the first eyewitness allegation of an attempt to derail the antitrust suit. Also, it is the first assertion attributed to an official of the cooperative linking the 1971 price increase to promises of campaign money.

OEA delegates set Saturday spring meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 1,000 delegates will gather at the state fairgrounds Saturday for a spring meeting of the Ohio Education Association to consider new policies on teacher accountability and teacher education.

Reports will be given by special committees which have studied the issues for several months.

Delegates also are expected to act on appointments to a new OEA Appeals Board, amendments to the OEA Constitution and bylaws and an amended budget for the coming year.

that later, Hanni told him he had been offered an opportunity "to go over to the other side."

Vigorito claimed that on that evening he had returned to the Youngstown office to find "what looked like a fraternity party," and had fired Hanni. Vigorito said he's been unhappy with Hanni's overall performance as county coordinator.

At no time prior to this had they made their feelings about the campaign literature known to anyone on Glenn's staff other than Vigorito, both Hanni and Skaljac testified.

After the incident, the two said they filed a formal complaint about the literature with Don R. Gosney, Columbian County Election Board member and an administrative assistant to Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio.

Hays is chairman of the House Administrations Committee which handles federal election violations, they said. They said they found this out from reading a book.

Gosney testified he forwarded their complaints to Hays, then held a press conference to announce the allegations without either the knowledge or consent of Skaljac or Hanni.

He said he made no attempt to verify the complaint or to talk to Glenn headquarters.

"That's not part of my job," he said. After the April 20 incident, Skaljac said he'd had only one contact with Glenn campaign officials. He said he telephoned Warren Baltimore, Glenn's fund-raiser, who allegedly threatened to "remember this."

Asked if this contributed to his intention to make the accusations public, Skaljac replied: "I wanted him to really remember it if he wanted to remember it."

Stock list falls back

NEW YORK (AP)— The stock market pulled back today in the face of signs that upward pressure on interest rates was continuing.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.83 at 847.23, and declines outnumbered advances by more than 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was light.

Analysts said investors were disappointed at figures from the Federal Reserve which showed continued strong demand for loans at major New York banks, despite the present high cost of borrowing.

British Petroleum, down 1/4 at 12 1/4, was the Big Board's most active stock. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .35 at 90.34.

Israel wants cease-fire with Syria

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel called for a cease-fire on the Golan Heights and reported no progress toward a disengagement agreement with Syria as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger prepared to shuttle out to Damascus today.

Kissinger met for eight hours with Israeli leaders Thursday, and afterward Information Minister Shimon Peres said "meaningful and worthwhile" negotiations with Syria can only occur after a cease-fire in the artillery and air war that their forces have been waging for nearly two months.

"We believe the negotiations would work best if there was no pressure by either side, and particularly if military actions were stopped," Peres told newsmen.

He emphasized that his remarks were not an ultimatum to the Syrians. But he added: "We will await Syrian reaction."

As Kissinger and the Israelis talked, Israel escalated the fighting on the northern front. The Israeli command said its artillery landed shells within nine miles of Damascus and its planes attacked bases of the Palestine guerrillas on the Lebanese side of Mt. Hermon. The Israelis denied a Syrian claim that Syrian missiles shot down two Israeli jet fighters.

Peres told newsmen that in meetings with Kissinger, Premier Golda Meir, premier-designate Yitzhak Rabin and other political and military leaders gave him only "general principles" to take to Damascus, and that no progress was made in eliminating the conflicts in the Israeli and Syrian disengagement proposals.

Cleveland seeks money for raises

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The city may have to pay unemployment compensation for 525 employees it is laying off to save $4.4 million to cover raises for other city employees, an official of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said Thursday.

If employees earn $20 gross pay in the 20th week of the fiscal year, they would be eligible, a local office manager said.

The administration had planned to lay off the employees one day short of the 20-week eligibility period required by state law. But the layoff date of May 16 is a Thursday, four days into the 20th week.

Unemployment compensation would mean from $77 to $114 a week for 20 weeks for workers laid off, the official said.

The city agreed to pay members of nine unions a wage increase of 37 cents an hour, effective Thursday, and an additional 10 cents an hour retroactive to Jan. 1. The settlement ended a 17-day strike by garbage workers and other city employees, members of Teamsters Union Local 244.

A city official said the layoffs were to help meet the cost of the raises since the $4.4 million was not in the budget.

The chairman of the city council Finance Committee estimated that the city could raise enough money to solve its fiscal problems by increasing the city income tax by six tenths of one per cent.

But Councilman Michael Zone said he did not think Mayor Ralph J. Perk, a U.S. Senate candidate, would ask for a tax hike.

"I don't think city council will initiate a tax campaign on its own. But the mayor would find a good reception in council if he attaches his name to it," Zone said.

Zone said the tax hike would raise $24 million, the amount needed in view of expected raises for city employees next year plus skyrocketing costs of other city services.

Perk won a round in court Thursday when a judge ruled that the minidumps set up in city parks during the garbage workers' strike might be illegal, he would not ban them. Judge John J. Griesinger said the minidumps lessened the health hazard in the city.

Workers began Thursday removing garbage and trash that piled up at a rate of 10,000 tons a week. Service Director Ralph Tyler said it might take a week just to clear out the minidumps.

The Teamsters voted by a 3-1 margin Wednesday night to approve the package worked out under supervision of Common Pleas Court Judge John J. McMahon.

Rhodes aide Fred Rice dies at 68

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Fred Rice, former state registrar of motor vehicles and a close friend of former Gov. James Rhodes, collapsed and died on a Cincinnati street corner Thursday.

Rice, who is now with Rhodes' development firm, James A. Rhodes and Associates, had accompanied the former governor to Cincinnati to help him campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Rice was helping Rhodes with campaign scheduling and had driven him to the Queen City.

Doctors at Cincinnati General Hospital said Rice, 68, died of an apparent heart attack.

A native of Jackson County, Rice had lived in Columbus in recent years. He still maintained a farm and voting address in Jackson County, an associate said.

Rice served as registrar of the state bureau of motor vehicles during Rhodes' two terms as governor. Earlier, he had been a state representative.

Ask delay in Ohioan's murder trial

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Another delay has been requested in the start of the trial for James W. Hall, accused of murdering University of Iowa nursing student Sarah Ann Ottens March 13, 1973.

The trial was scheduled to begin Monday but one of Hall's attorneys, Bruce Walker, Thursday asked that it be delayed until May 9 because Hall's chief defense counsel, Iowa City attorney William Tucker, had been hospitalized since Wednesday.

A ruling was expected Friday. The prosecution has filed a request for a change of venue, but no decision on that motion has been made.

The body of Miss Ottens of Morrison, Ill., was found in a University of Iowa dormitory room.

Hall of Toledo, Ohio, was a former U of I football player and is now a part-time student. He was indicted last fall on an open charge of murder.

He has been released on bond during the long delay in the start of the trial, already rescheduled twice before.

BREATHING EASIER — Leroy Diekmann, 32-year-old building contractor, displays bottles of sand-like substance similar to what was removed from his lungs at a hospital in Torrance, Calif. Four pounds of the sand-like matter was removed. Doctors diagnosed the problem as pulmonary alveolar proteinosis, a rare disease that causes the lung to fill with granular protein material.

'Town Meeting' turnout small; more to be held

"We expected more, but we are not discouraged," commented Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce President Fred L. Domenico regarding the first in a possible series of old-fashioned town meetings held Thursday night for residents of the city's Third Ward in Belle Aire Elementary School.

Besides panelists and Chamber of Commerce officials, only five interested citizens responded to the open invitation.

While the turnout was small, the discussion covered topics ranging from street paving programs to the new Community Education Program in Washington C.H. Those in attendance questioned panelists for more than 90 minutes on the various topics.

Domenico and the Chamber of Commerce's public relations committee, headed by Leroy Barton and Robert Lutz, indicated future sessions will be held in other city wards, but dates and locations have not yet been determined.

All present Thursday night, including the panelists, indicated the town meeting type of session can be valuable to Washington C.H. residents as the questions and topics covered are virtually impossible to cover in other ways.

Panelists participating in the town meeting were City Manager Dan Wolford, representing city government; Darrell Clark, owner of the Clark's Cardinal market, representing business; Paul Johnson, of Armco Steel Corp., representing industry; Robert Rochester, editor of The Record-Herald, representing the news media, and Edwin Nestor, superintendent of Washington C.H. city schools, representing education.

Washington C.H. Fire Chief Maynard L. (Joe) Denen, Police Specialist Larry Hott and Hank Shaffer, director of the Community Education program in Washington C.H., were also present and answered questions. Domenico was the panel moderator.

WCH home brings $70,000

A Washington C.H. property was purchased for $70,000 at a public auction held Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M.W. (Arthur) Libbey, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., purchased the property located at 525 Mayfair Drive from the Harold F. McCord estate.

The three-bedroom, all-brick and stone residence is situated on a 100-by-175-foot lot and overlooks Washington Country Club.

J.W. Wallace was the executor of the McCord estate, and William Junk was the attorney. The sale was conducted by Polk Real Estate, 122 S. Main St. Emerson Marting was the auctioneer. Jim Polk, of Polk Real Estate, said there were two other bidders seeking the property.

Ohio U talks stall

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Disagreement over how many student employees must vote on a proposal for union recognition appeared to be the major hangup in negotiations between the Student Workers Union and Ohio University.

Talks were to resume today.

The union wants just a majority of student employees voting to be necessary to win bargaining rights. But university administrators insist that at least 80 per cent of those eligible for representation participate in the voting.

Negotiators cleared a major hurdle Thursday when students agreed to permit hourly employees vote as a single unit. The union had wanted them to vote according to their occupation in six separate categories.

Other points of disagreement deal with other mechanics of conducting the election and supervising it.

University President Claude Sowle agreed to the representative election after about 250 SWU members went on strike last week.

Driving habits and gas supply

All around the country there have been news stories playing variations on a common theme: in the wake of the gasoline shortage, drivers are behaving as though it had never been. Accounts of this phenomenon often contain a warning that if the practice continues there may be another auto fuel pinch before long.

This echoes authoritative, if somewhat muted, admonition along the same lines. We are told in effect that probably no new gasoline shortages will develop this summer if motorists use reasonable prudence as to how much, and how fast, they drive. That is a big "if." The contravening fact seems to be that we have a general tendency to resume old driving habits.

On Interstate 71, for instance, the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit imposed to curb gasoline consumption is being largely ignored now. This means that more gas is being used up getting from point A to point B than was the case at the height of the shortage.

Then, people were driving slower to save gas. They did so both because gas was hard to get and because they felt they should do their part to make fuel supplies last longer. Now this attitude is at best on the wane, and at worst it has simply vanished.

Street traffic also is sharply on the rise in many communities where recent gas shortages put a crimp in it. People seem to be going back to their old habits of driving whenever and wherever they please.

Apparently this is because gas is now readily available where, a few weeks ago, getting a fillup meant waiting in line after having cruised to find an open station. The philosophy of conservation no longer appears to play much of a part in driving customs.

That philosophy is nevertheless a key element in the situation. No significant increase in available gasoline supplies can be expected in the near future.

Whether Americans will find themselves caught short again depends in very large measure on how well they discipline their driving habits.

Cosell couldn't savage Buckley

Howard Cosell, the demon sportscaster, thinks he might challenge New York's Conservative-Republican Sen. Jim Buckley for office in 1976.

Since Cosell has the reputation for beating the late Dan Parker all hollow in the business of asking impertinent sports questions, this might seem a promising way of insuring a campaign that would give us something more than the usual round of platitudes. The only trouble with the idea is that Jim Buckley is impertinence-proof.

Jim is a polite and friendly fellow, but in his own way he is the Howard Cosell of the Senate. He plunges in where more circumspect characters fear to tread. For example, with Women's Lib riding high, who in politics wants to stick his neck out on the free abortion question? The answer is Jim Buckley.

I don't profess to know whether Jim's feeling that abortion is murder gives him a vast subterranean political following (my fellow columnist Paul Scott thinks it does), but Jim is perfectly willing to put his convictions on the line in this most sensitive of all areas. Howard Cosell's one big stock in trade is exposing phonies and four-flushers, but he couldn't burrow in on Jim Buckley here.

Buckley, who is the least cowardly man in public life I know.

Other congressmen are a calculating, not to say a shifty, lot. The American Conservative Union keeps a beady eye on a whole flock of them who were announced conservatives before Watergate came along. Democrats, heeding the rightward trend of the polls, were proud to be thought of as part of a conservative coalition. The Southerners in particular voted for conservative legislation.

HOWEVER, in the most recent annual key issues voting index put out by the American Conservative Union, the Southern Democrat-Northern Republican front has been fractured. The 20-member Texas Democrat delegation, for example, averaged a 48.3 per cent rating on the conservative-liberal scale, which is a considerable come-down from the 73.1 rating of 1971.

So we have ceased to have a veto-proof House of Representatives even before the 1974 election returns are in. The Senate remains as a possible veto-sustaining bastion. But there are only three unquestionable stalwarts who get a 100 per cent conservative rating from the ACU. These are Norris Cotton of New Hampshire (R.), Barry Goldwater of Arizona (R.), and — of course — Jim Buckley.

Howard Cosell may have a great reputation in the sportscasting world of telling it the way it is. But his only effective way of getting at Jim Buckley would be to oppose him on a flat-out disagreement basis.

To make it a lively race, it would have to be Cosell, the supporter of abortion-on-demand, or Cosell, the big spender, or Cosell, the man in George Meany's pocket.

If he were to object to being portrayed as following this sort of line, he would have to admit that Jim Buckley is a man who, in addition to being brave, is also a man who is right.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SATURDAY, MAY 4

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)
A good time to develop a dormant talent, to repeat an old strategy, when others fail. Don't yield to frustration in ANY situation. Keep your eyes on a golden future.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)
This will be one of those "give and take" days, with emphasis on the giving. The artistic, the extra trimming, the light touch can brighten all things.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)
As with many others, you will get into difficulty if you speak or act in haste now. Stick to high principles, but avoid dissension, antagonism.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)
Some new events in the making, perhaps a new contact. Give rein to your liveliest hopes now. Do not antagonize those who are really well disposed toward you.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)
Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day — if you cooperate.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
You can make headway in most matters, but some concessions may be obligatory. Do not take on new ventures without thorough investigation. This is no day for acting blindly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Avoid a present tendency toward lethargy. Gear efforts to achieve objectives more quickly. Improve occasionally. This day can be a helpful challenge.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Though yours is not usually a passive nature, you could place yourself behind the front lines through modesty. A bit of self-press-agency wouldn't hurt a bit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
A conservative and prudent attitude will keep you from going overboard through misguided enthusiasm — a tendency now. Be especially cautious in romantic matters.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Warning signals are up where behavior and disposition are concerned! Without realizing it, you could be too quick to prescribe or criticize — with unhappy results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Iron out kinks in your plans and tactics. You should be able to interpret and handle situations ably now. In aiming for goals, however, don't overreach.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)
Tip-top results indicated in current projects. You may be on delicate ground in some areas, but no dilemma exists without its solution. Search!

YOU BORN TODAY, though gifted along creative lines as are most Taureans, could also succeed notably in the business and financial fields. You would make an excellent merchant, stock broker or banker; would also thrive as a farmer or builder. You have a great love of heritage and tradition and could make an outstanding career of teaching history, archeology, anthropology and kindred subjects.

Solon retiring — economics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Robert E. Levitt, R-70 Canton, now serving his sixth straight term in the Ohio House of Representatives, is calling it quits after this year.

The veteran legislator said his main reason for quitting was economics.

"The length of the session has increased until no one with an active law practice has the time to do all the legislative work," Levitt said.

Beyond that, Levitt said he doesn't like the way majority Democrats are running things.

"They're running an awfully sloppy operation," he said. "Very, very low quality. They are making a lot of errors and railroad through legislation that is poorly conceived and in terrible shape."

Democratic leaders in the House who could be reached during the legislature's monthlong recess declined to respond to the charges.

The 46-year-old Canton lawmaker is among four House members retiring this year. Others are Reps. Joseph F. Hiestand, R-77 Hillsboro, who is 66; John G. Sweeney, D-14 Cleveland, who is 59, and John T. Bechtold, R-26 Cincinnati, who is 49.

Roger Tracy Jr., candidate for the Republican nomination as state auditor, naturally thinks the work of Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's office is for the birds. Ferguson is a Democrat, his son seeks the Democratic nomination.

In his latest attack, Tracy argued the auditor's approval of food expenses at the governor's mansion came without supporting data.

He said that one approved voucher was for four pheasants at $40 from Viola C. Halloran. At the same time, he said, a voucher for $100 to Liles Taxidermy for four pheasants was approved.

"We aren't sure whether they were eaten, stuffed or both," Tracy said.

Sen. Howard M. Metzbaum has been having his troubles with income taxes — even with the news conference at which he reported his 1973 returns.

Through a mixup most capitol newsmen didn't get word of the conference until it was almost over several blocks from the Statehouse. Some did hear about it, but went to the wrong place, Metzbaum's official office in the old Post Office building. The meeting was being held in Metzbaum's Columbus campaign headquarters.

Former astronaut John Glenn, Metzbaum's primary election opponent, scheduled a similar Columbus news conference an hour later.

Both candidates showed they did all right making money last year. Metzbaum reported paying $50,422 taxes on income of $372,194. Glenn said he forked over taxes of $35,811 on a 1973 income of $119,275.

The heaviest normal newborn child recorded in modern times was a boy weighing 24 pounds 4 ounces, born on June 3, 1961, to Mrs. Saadet Cor of Ceyhan, southern Turkey.

Fear for safety stops Good Samaritan acts

DEAR ABBY: Can you or anyone in your vast reading audience provide a solution to a problem which saddens me? Because of the frightening increase of crime, in order to protect myself, I must now refuse to lend a helping hand to a brother or sister in apparent need of help. If I am driving along the road and see a car stalled by the roadside, and a woman tries to flag me down, must I ignore her plight and keep going because I fear it might be a trap to rob me? Or if a stranger, apparently hysterical, rings my doorbell and asks to use my phone to call the police and ambulance to report an accident must I say: "Sorry, no," because he might be trying to set me up for a holdup or kidnapping?

I have always felt that I was my brother's keeper. Not anymore. I and millions of others await your reply.

TAKING NO CHANCES

DEAR TAKING: If someone tries to flag you down on the road, keep going. But stop at the first telephone and report it to the police of highway patrol. Under no circumstances should you open your door to a strange man, woman or child. Don't ignore them. Offer to make a call and summon help.

DEAR ABBY: My father wants to get a motorcycle. My mother and I feel he wants the fun of being a teen-ager again, but he claims a motorcycle is the answer to the gas shortage. I am more afraid of his getting hurt than anything else. He's 47 and has to drive 40 miles on the freeway every day to get to work and back. My brothers are on his side, and my mom and I are against it.

This is causing a lot of arguments in our house. How do you feel about a man Dad's age buying a motorcycle when he's never ridden one before in his life?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: Same as you, but your father is an adult and must be aware of the dangers as well as the advantages. You've spoken your mind now be quiet. And for heaven's sake, if he should get into an accident, resist the urge to say: "I told you so."

DEAR ABBY: How can I open up my son's eyes to something before it's too late?

Sonny is 28, and he's marrying Sally, a 26-year-old widow with a child. Sally was married at 20, and had a baby at 21, and her husband was killed in an accident when she was 22.

Because Sally was orphaned young, she never knew her mother, so she became very close to her mother-in-law. After Sally's husband was killed, she and the baby moved in with the in-laws and they've lived there ever since.

I have told my son that since it isn't proper for a widow to have a gala wedding, he should insist on a small quiet ceremony with none of Sally's in-laws present, but he said whatever Sally wanted was alright with him. Well, Sally is having all her first husband's family, and I'm afraid with all the memories of their dead son they will turn the wedding into a funeral.

I don't want to be a meddling mother-in-law, but I want my son to realize that unless Sally breaks those strong ties with her past, their marriage doesn't stand a chance. So how should I do it?

TOUCHY SUBJECT

DEAR TOUCHY: If you don't want to be a meddling mother-in-law, the advice from here is—don't meddle.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, May 3, the 123rd day of 1974. There are 242 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1802, Washington, D.C., was incorporated.

On this date:

In 1494, Christopher Columbus discovered the island of Jamaica.

In 1814, King Louis XVIII returned to Paris after allied forces had defeated Napoleon.

In 1892, the British financier, Cecil Rhodes, became premier of the Cape Colony, South Africa.

In 1919, airplane passenger service was inaugurated when Robert Hewitt flew two women from New York to Atlantic City, N.J.

In 1923, Navy Lt. Oakley Kelly and John MacReady made the first non-stop transcontinental flight, landing at Coronado Beach, Calif.

In 1944, synthetic quinine was produced in a Harvard University laboratory.

Ten years ago ... in Saigon several persons were wounded when a terrorist bomb was thrown into a crowd of Americans gathering to look at a U.S. ship which had been sunk by explosive charges.

Five years ago ... India's first Moslem president, Zakir Husain, died at 72 after a heart attack.

One year ago ... Henry A. Kissinger said the situation had improved in Cambodia, and negotiations might begin in the near future to end the fighting in the Indochina country.

Joshua Succeeds Moses

And he laid his hands upon him and gave him a charge, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses. —Numbers 27: 23

When God ordered Moses to Mount Abarim from whence he could view the Promised Land—a land which he could never enter himself because he had once rebelled against the Lord—Moses humbly accepted the dictum and began to prepare for the death which God told him was imminent. Having no kin, Moses worried about a successor who could lead the Israelites safely for the rest of the journey. He confided his fears to the Lord, Who immediately put his mind at rest. He ordered Moses to send for Joshua, son of Nun, one of Moses' most trusted and courageous ministers, to lay his hands upon him and give him the charge in the Lord's name. Moses did so and, after the death of Moses, the Lord confirmed the charge. (Joshua 1: 1-9)

WORSHIP THROUGH MUSIC — As part of a series of special musical programs emphasizing "Worship through Music," the Singing Nobles (above), from Dayton, will present gospel music at Grace United Methodist Church Sunday. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary. A local group, Christ's Vessels, will also participate.

Bishop blasts Brazilian leader

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — South America's daring church warrior for human rights, Roman Catholic Archbishop Helder Camera of Brazil, spoke recently of police-state suppressions in his homeland and added:

"If the religions of the world do not bring moral pressure to bear upon those responsible for such crimes, humanity will no longer trust them to speak in the name of God."

The archbishop, presented in Norway with a "People's Peace Prize" of $264,000 for his struggles in behalf of justice and nonviolence, used to be virtually alone among church leaders in his outspoken clash with military regimes.

But that is no longer the case. Mounting opposition of Catholics and Protestants to oppressive government tactics in South America, particularly in Brazil and Chile, is showing up both there and in the United States.

In the first action of its kind, the administrative board of U.S. Catholic bishops has charged repression of human rights in Chile and Brazil and urged the U.S. government to condition its economic aid on changes in those policies.

The U.S. bishops said they acted "in solidarity" with churches both in Chile and Brazil, meaning that the protest had the backing of bishops in the two South American countries.

"It was a historic action," says the Rev. Frederick McGuire of Washington, D.C., head of the U.S. Catholic Conference Latin American division, noting that the U.S. hierarchy usually maintains a diplomatic silence about foreign regimes.

New Holland youth rally

Final plans have been made by members of the Senior High United Methodist Youth Fellowship of the New Holland United Methodist Church for a Youth Rally for all area churches to be held Saturday evening at 8:00 p.m. in the New Holland United Methodist Church.

Invitations have been sent to all area churches in surrounding counties and all youth from junior high through college age are urged to attend.

The highlight of the evening will be the special guests from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., who will feature a witness team of college students.

All youth groups have been invited to bring and display their church banner. Special music groups are also invited to participate.

Religion links Mid-East

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The spiritual leader of the world's three million Sephardic Jews, Israel's chief Rabbi Ovadis Yossef, says Jews and Arabs once worked together in friendship and have the shared background for doing so again.

"There is a definite potential for both cultures to come together and flower together, once the political questions are settled," he said in an interview.

Rabbi Yossef, 54, one of two Israeli chief rabbis and the foremost leader of Jews with ancestries in countries bordering on the Mediterranean, said those Jews particularly have common cultural roots with Arabs.

"There's a greater rapport between them," he said. He added that unfortunately few Sephardic Jews are among Israel's top government officers, although they would be better able to communicate with Arabs on a basis of mutual background.

Recalling his own four years as head of a rabbinical court in Egypt before the first Arab-Israeli fighting, he said that in that period the Jewish community there took full part in Egyptian civic functions.

"That's how it could be and how it ought to be," he said.

Noting that both Arabs and Jews are of Semitic stock, their lineage traced back to two Biblical brothers — the Arabs to Ishmael and the Jews to Isaac — Rabbi Yossef said:

"That makes us cousins, and we've got a common grandfather, Abraham."

The branch of Judaism which Rabbi Yossef leads, Sephardim, is a Hebrew word literally meaning "Jews from Spain," but it also includes those from other Mediterranean areas, including predominantly Moslem lands of Syria, Turkey, Lebanon, Egypt, Iraq, Iran and Algeria.

The Jewish communities in those areas have shrunk sharply, most of them moving to Israel. Rabbi Yossef himself was born in Bagdad, Iraq, and his wife in Syria. Both know Arabic.

ADVANCING — Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, of the Ohio West Conference of the United Methodist Church, has announced the appointment of E. Eugene Frazer to district superintendent of Cincinnati, beginning in June. The Rev. Mr. Frazer began his ministry in the Good Hope Charge in 1949, serving the Good Hope, Sugar Grove, Maple Grove and New Martinsburg Methodist churches for seven years. He has since served in Grove City and is presently in his sixth year in Middletown where he is senior minister of the First United Methodist Church.

Browning Club observes 79th year at banquet

Beautiful thoughts from Robert Browning's poetry and the piano playing of Mrs. Mary Richter Snyder in six classical compositions, set the mood for the 79th annual banquet of the Browning Club held in Fellowship Hall, Grace United Methodist Church, Tuesday evening.

A dinner was served by the United Methodist Women with Mrs. Billie Wilson as chairman. Mrs. Willard Bitzer presided at beautifully appointed tables decorated with a springtime theme by Mrs. William Hastings and Mrs. Orville Jenkins. The favors at each place setting were small wicker baskets filled with colorful spring flowers. Mrs. Bitzer welcomed the members and guests.

Mrs. Ralph Scott gave the invocation. To introduce the program, Mrs. Everad Broberg read the poem-of-the-month "Boy and the Angel" by Robert Browning.

Mrs. Snyder was introduced by Mrs. Frank Mayo, program chairman, as pianist with extraordinary talent and accomplishments, who made her debut at Town Hall in New York City in 1965. She majored in piano at the Eastman School of Music under the tutelage of Cecile Gemhart and several private instructors. Her study also included ensemble coaching under the late Louis Persinger, eminent violinist. In addition to solo concerts, TV and radio performances in the midwest, Mrs. Snyder pursues an active career in chamber music circles.

Her program was Fantasia in C minor by J.S. Bach, Rhapsody in B Minor by J. Brahms, Sonetto 104 del Petrarca by Franz Liszt, Etude in a Flat Major by F. Chopin (The Harp), Aufschwung (Soaring) by R. Schumann and Encore - Waltz in E. Flat by F. Chopin.

Mrs. Emerson Chapman gave a brief history of the Browning club which was organized in Washington C.H. in 1895 by Dr. N.S. Chaney, then superintendent of the City School, and a devotee of Robert Browning's poetry. In her tribute to Browning, she quoted from his poem "Pippa Passes" which critics have said there is no poem in English literature that has more appeal to human emotions. The poem is a challenge to the present generation, young and old. She concluded with "God's in His Heaven, All's right with the World."

Mrs. Chapman then announced that a special birthday was being celebrated that day—that of the Browning Club's president for 1974-75 - Mrs. P.M. Cook. She extended the club's appreciation to Mrs. Cook for her loyalty to her family, church, and friends, and presented her with an orchid, a gift from the club.

The creative writing students charmed the audience by their talents, creative writing ability and poise before an audience. This is the 10th year for the Browning Club to sponsor the creative writing contest. Mrs. John Gall, of the Miami Trace High School English department, introduced Sheila Gordon, an AFS exchange student from Natal, South Africa, and attending MTHS this year, who read her original poem, "Stars" which was excellent. She is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Elizabeth Crichton Gordon and the late Mr. Gordon.

Mary Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ford, read her original poem, "One Dream Come True" which had a great appeal, also. She is a senior at MTHS.

Mr. Austin Crusie, chairman of the English department of Washington Senior High School, told the club members of his visit with the creative writing class to the Ohioana Library Battelle Creative Writing workshop in Columbus, where the students were encouraged to continue to write creatively by specialists in that field.

Mr. Crusie introduced Sue Moore, a sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Moore, who has been writing since she was in the fifth grade. She read "Hitchhiker" an original poem which earned her third place in SCOL poetry. She has many assignments in school and church, where she uses her creative ability.

Greg Huysman, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huysman, and has been writing two years. He won National Anthology of Student Poetry, and read three of his selections, "Untitled Anthology Winner," "Remember Me" and "Night." Besides his creative writing, he likes football and track, and sings in the WSHS choir, and is president of the Art Club.

Mary Jo Burris, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene

Burris. She has been interested in writing poetry since in the third grade. She is a clerk in the Children's Room at Carnegie Public Library and helps with "Grace Notes" at the Grace United Methodist Church. She plans to study journalism in college, and she read "Free Speech" an essay that was given on an educational program on WBNS-TV aired a few weeks ago. She also read an original poem "To My Father, A Song" which the club members liked very much.

WISH group elects officers

The Women In Service Helping group met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Mike Pentzer. The new officers were unanimously elected. They are: President, Mrs. Glenn Jacobson; vice president, Mrs. Lynn Shoemaker; secretary, Mrs. David Loudner; and treasurer, Mrs. Tom Gauldin.

The May 15 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Roger Kirkpatrick, at which time members will reveal secret sisters and have a jewelry party.

Mrs. Pentzer served refreshments to Mrs. Jacobson, Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. Loudner, Mrs. Gauldin, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Steve Smalley, Mrs. Norm Dennis, Mrs. Tom Edwards, Mrs. Jay Smith and Mrs. Al Hatfield.

A lamb dish that is delicious

By TOM HOGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

With the advent of spring, butcher stores are featuring lamb which can range in price from fairly moderate to astronomical, depending on the cut.

If the cost of a loin chop or steak makes you cringe, try some of the cheaper sections, like the breast, neck and shoulder. With a little effort they can be transformed into delicious dishes that often surpass those made from the choicer cuts.

Have your butcher grind some neck slices or shank, and you can enjoy hamburgers, loaves or patties, spiced up with creole sauce, barbecue sauce or fruit dressing. Or ask him to fix you up a Scotch roast which is merely breast stuffed with ground lamb. Or mix some shoulder chunks with potatoes, carrots and onions for a superb Irish stew.

And then there is the question of leftovers. I agree that roast lamb put in the oven a second time becomes dry and pretty tasteless. But cube up some of that leftover for an exotic curry or casserole. Diced lamb can also be served a la king on toast or in patty shells with the right seasoning. And bits of leftover lamb with cooked macaroni, pickle relish and sharp dressing make a delicious salad that can serve as the main course at lunch.

The consumption of lamb dates back to ancient times. When the Jews fled from Egypt, the Lord instructed them to each take a lamb and "eat the flesh in the night, roast with fire and unleavened bread; and with bitter herbs."

In 17th-century Europe, they used to stuff lamb with ox suet, larks and olives. In the Middle East they roast the meat with herbs and pistachio nuts. To this day, during the U.N. General Assembly session in New York each

Women's Golf Association holds annual spring dinner

The annual tee-off dinner of the Women's Golf Association took place recently at the Washington Country Club. The spring banquet was the "kick off" for the season, which began May 1. There were 60 members and two guests present. Mrs. Robert Heiny is chairman for the year and Mrs. Loren Noble is co-chairman.

The tables were decorated by Mrs. Harry Thrailkill.

During the business session, the pro am benefit each year, to be held in Columbus, was discussed.

Representing the local group will be Mrs. Ray Jennings and Mrs. Richard Wintringham. The alternates are Mrs. Charles Schneider and Mrs. James Grinstead.

Following the dinner, Tony Capuana, Club golf pro, was introduced and he answered questions regarding local rules for the year.

Time for rhubarb conserve

RHUBARB APRICOT CONSERVE — Worth making to use as extra-special gifts.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Now that those springtime strawberry-red stalks of rhubarb topped with pale green leaves are in markets, you may want to turn your hand to making rhubarb-apricot conserve.

RHUBARB APRICOT CONSERVE

7 cups sliced (½-inch thick) rhubarb, about 2 pounds
7 cups diced dried apricots, about 2

1 cup raisins
10 cups sugar

2 naval oranges
2 cups coarsely chopped pecans

In a 6-quart saucepot stir together the rhubarb, apricots, raisins and sugar; let stand 1½ hours to draw some moisture from rhubarb and plump dried fruit. With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler remove yellow part of peel from oranges; coarsely chop this peel. Remove white outer membrane from oranges and discard. Separate oranges into sections and cut into ½-inch pieces. Add peel and sections to rhubarb mixture. Over moderate heat, stir constantly until sugar dissolves. Boil rapidly, uncovered and stirring often to prevent scorching, until thickened — about 20 minutes. Stir in pecans. Pour into hot sterilized preserving jars and seal.

fall, Middle East delegates lean heavily on couscous and other lamb dishes when they entertain.

One dish with festive overtones that won't bankrupt you is Lamb Stroganoff.

1½ lbs. boneless lamb shoulder sliced thin

Seasoned flour
1-3rd cup butter
1 clove garlic chopped fine
½ cup chopped onion
1 lb. mushrooms sliced
Salt and pepper to taste
1½ cups sour cream
3 tablespoons dry sherry
Coat lamb with flour. Melt butter, add lamb, garlic and onions and cook till lamb is lightly browned on all sides. Add mushrooms, salt and pepper. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add cream and sherry and mix well. Serve with cooked rice. Good with a chilled Beaujolais. Serves 6.

Class enjoys progressive dinner

The Young Bereans of South Side Church of Christ had a progressive dinner, when the food was enjoyed at various members' homes. Games were the entertainment and the hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. William Temple. There were 18 members and their families who participated. Following the dessert, Mr. Temple presented devotions.

Prior to the meeting, 'gym night' was enjoyed with the Young Married Class members of the New Holland Church of Christ as guests.

The class prepared and served the breakfast for Sunrise Service.

The next meeting will be May 18.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Two more broadcast news specials are coming up this weekend on the controversial edited transcripts of President Nixon's taped conversations with key Watergate figures.

One of the shows, on NBC-TV late Saturday night, will run 90 minutes, the longest by far of network news specials on the transcripts. CBS aired an hour news special Wednesday night, while ABC's version Thursday night ran 30 minutes.

But the NBC undertaking is a small bite of air time compared with a marathon 32-hour session on the transcripts that the Washington-based National Public Radio system is offering.

NPR, which serves 164 public radio stations, says virtually all 1,308 pages of the transcript President Nixon submitted the House Judiciary Committee will be read aloud on the air.

Before concerned listeners start recommending throat specialists, it should be known that readers at six participating NPR stations will take turns at the oral history.

The 32 hours won't be consecutive, either. NPR says it's being served up in 16-hour chunks Saturday and Sunday, with periodic updates on what transcript portion is being read, as well as reports on new developments in the transcript controversy.

NPR says the "reader" stations are WUHY, Philadelphia; WOI-FM, Ames, Iowa; WUOMFM, Ann Arbor, Mich.; KBIFM, Columbia, Mo.; WGBHFM, Boston; and WBFOFM, Buffalo, N.Y.

NPR's read-a-thon commences at 8 a.m. EDT Saturday and continues until midnight, with the same schedule for Sunday, NPR says.

An NPR spokeswoman says it isn't known yet how many of the system's 164 stations will carry the readings, so the only way listeners might find out is to call their area's public station or just flip those AM and FM dials like crazy Saturday morning.

NBC-TV's transcript session, anchored by John Chancellor, is set to begin at 11:30 p.m. EDT Saturday. The show features an unusual touch for a network news program.

NBC says six "professional readers" who aren't actors will be on hand the first 45 minutes or so to recite key excerpts of the transcript.

Each reader will be assigned the words spoken by the principals in the transcript — President Nixon, John Dean, H. R. Haldeman and so forth — but it won't be a dramatic reading.

NBC says they're ordered to avoid that sort of thing. It says they'll read in a "nonexpressive manner so as not to convey a particular meaning where the meaning is ambiguous."

A network correspondent will precede the reading of each portion by setting the scene and outlining circumstances. The remainder of the program mainly will consist of summaries, analyses and interviews with congressional leaders, NBC says.

Businesses feel money pinch

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — High interest rates and a dispirited stock market are having multiple effects on American business, few of them totally desirable. The spirit of entrepreneurship is, for the time being, stifled. Beginning and small companies cannot hope to raise money in the lifeless new-issues market, where five years ago speculators begged for a share of any new stock.

Who will buy the stock of an untested outfit when the likes of Chrysler, Ford and General Motors find it difficult to market their shares? Some large companies complain, in fact, of a capital shortage.

Small business also finds itself frustrated in the credit markets, where loans cost considerably more than the prime rate, which is now up to 10 1/2 per cent. Charges of 15 per cent are more common for small business.

Corporate mergers, which proliferate when the market is active, are at a very low ebb. A company with a price-earnings multiple of five isn't inclined to use its stock to buy another company.

If, as was fairly common a few years ago, its multiple was 35 — meaning investors were willing to pay 35 times earnings for a share — a company could obtain a real bargain by using those shares to buy a smaller concern. But the average P-E ratio of all stocks in the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was 9.7 at the close of last week. A year ago the ratio was 13.7 times earnings, and just a few years ago around 18.

Moreover, those cash-rich companies that were so attractive to merger-minded conglomerates in 1968 are far less common today. Few well-run concerns are inclined to borrow money at high rates when they can use their own.

Cash flows are being pinched, just as they are in households, none more dramatically than at Consolidated Edison, the big New York utility that omitted a quarterly dividend for the first time in 89 years.

When something of that sort happens, it flies above the money market like a red storm flag. Fear spreads that other utilities might do the same. And so utility prices have fallen sharply in the past week.

The effort by the Federal Reserve Board to cut down inflation does appear to be having an impact. Some businesses are being forced to curtail activities, thus relieving some inflationary pressure.

Court News

MARRIAGE APPLICATIONS

William Clifford Williamson, 48, of 508 Peddicord Ave., self-employed, and Delores Ann Lawhorn, 28, of 1239 Rawlings St., at home.

Herschel Dean Wolfe, 21, of 1013 Pearl St., material handler, and Barbara Jean Reese, 25, Rt. 3, Washington C.H., housewife.

DELINQUENT HEARINGS

Four Buena Vista youths were adjudged to be delinquent children and placed on probation with Marshall Boggs following hearings before Judge Rollo M. Marchant in Probate-Juvenile Court.

The youths, two 13-year-olds and others ages 15 and 11, were arrested by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department early last month and charged with breaking and entering and criminal trespass. An investigation by sheriff's deputies involving a breaking and entering incident at Blue Rock stone quarry, U.S. 62-S, led to the arrests of the juveniles. Deputies said about 50 pounds of copper wire and other merchandise, valued at $150, were taken in the burglary.

JUDGMENT ASKED

in Common Pleas Court against Fireman's Fund America Insurance Co., Cincinnati, and Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., Cincinnati.

The plaintiff alleges in the petition that the defendants wrote and had in effect fidelity bonds, insuring the company against loss by theft of property. The plaintiff also says that on Nov. 16, 1972, the company suffered a loss through the theft of property by William Suiter, a materials handler with the Redman Industries, Inc., plant in Washington C.H. The plaintiff has filed proof of loss and made claims to each of the respective companies for payment.

The suit demands a judgment in the amount of $11,789.78.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED

Two new divorce suits have been filed in Common Pleas Court.

Linda L. Riley, Rt. 1, Washington C.H., has filed suit against Thomas K. Riley, Dayton, on grounds of cruelty. The parties were married Dec. 11, 1968, in Washington C.H. and have one child, according to the petition. The plaintiff asks temporary and permanent alimony, child custody and support and that the court approve a separation agreement entered into by the parties.

James S. Brock, Washington-Waterloo Road, has filed suit against Mary Katherine Brock, Alpina, Mich., on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties were married June 9, 1972 in Washington C.H. and have no children, according to the petition. The plaintiff asks that a property settlement be determined by the court.

Sohio blames cost of oil for gas hikes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Higher crude oil costs which couldn't be passed along until this month were behind a six cents a gallon rise in the price of gasoline at Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) stations, a company official said Thursday.

"Since during April our prices were as much as eight or nine cents a gallon lower than some others, an objective analysis may show that Sohio products are still priced competitively," added Robert G. Griffin, vice president for marketing.

Sohio was able to secure more crude oil in April, but Federal Energy Office regulations kept the company from passing along the increased cost, Griffin said.

Griffin's explanation accompanied announcement that the firm planned to run its refineries at 90 per cent capacity, promising increased supplies of gasoline, heating oils and diesel fuels for dealers in May.

Production was to continue at the higher level in June and allocations were to be higher than in the preceding three months.

Griffin said gasoline would be allocated to service stations at 96 per cent of their base period volume, while heating oil and diesel fuel would be allocated at 100 per cent.

The company announced the gasoline price rise Wednesday and said home heating oil would cost an additional seven cents a gallon, too.

Sohio Board Chairman Charles Spahr told stockholders recently that the company expected to be able to buy more crude but that the company's purchases would jump from 60 per cent to 70 per cent from foreign sources. That would mean increasing gasoline prices, he said.

Marathon hikes gasoline prices

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—The price of gasoline at Marathon Oil Co. stations jumped 4.3 cents a gallon today.

The increase puts the price at 61.3 cents for regular and 65.3 for premium at owner-operated stations. Prices at company-operated stations are about three cents less.

Marathon said the hike was necessary because of higher prices on foreign crude oil purchased by the firm. It said the increase was consistent with federal guidelines allowing cost pass-throughs to the consumer.

Dividend declared

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Marathon Oil Co. directors Thursday declared a dividend of 40 cents per share, payable June 10 to shareholders of record May 13.

Global alert out for stolen art

LONDON (AP) — What do you do with 19 masterpieces worth about $20.4 million, that you stole in the world's greatest art robbery?

One thing's for sure — you can't sell them for anything like their market value. At least not openly.

Right now, those 19 paintings are possibly the hottest chunk of stolen property in the world. Art dealers and police around the globe have been alerted to watch out for them.

It poses a problem for police in Ireland investigating the raid last weekend by an armed gang on the collection of gold and diamond millionaire Sir Alfred Beit.

So far, the gang that pillaged Beit's mansion near Dublin April 26 has made no ransom demands of any kind.

But some art experts and some police officers believe the robbery was politically motivated. Beit himself thinks the gang was out to make a killing by ransoming off the paintings for hard cash. And he's also said firmly he won't pay a cent if that is correct.

Stealing art treasures has been a lucrative business for centuries. But in these days of terrorism and revolutionary politics it has assumed a more sinister aspect.

Hugh Leggatt, a respected London art dealer and international art historian, said: "There are new motives behind these art thefts. In the old days, thefts were often insurance frauds. Now there are sociopolitical reasons and some form of blackmail is likely."

There has been speculation the gang that raided Beit's County Wicklow mansion at Blessington, near Dublin, may be linked with the Irish Republican Army, an underground guerrilla movement fighting to unite the British-ruled province of Northern Ireland with the Irish republic to the south.

The gang of five, led by a French-speaking brunette, screamed revolutionary slogans, such as "capitalist pigs" at Beit, and accused him of exploiting the working class.

This, the experts believe, indicated the raiders were probably motivated by something more than just personal gain.

In the last three or four years, according to police estimates, art treasures worth $3 billion have been stolen.

Plans completed for WSHS 'Grad Night'

Plans have been completed by parents committees for the annual senior class party for graduating Washington Senior High School seniors. Seniors and their dates will be attending "Grad Nite" activities from 11 p.m. until 5 a.m. Friday, May 31, at Kings Island amusement center near Cincinnati.

Kings Island will be closed to the general public during those hours and graduates and their dates will be prohibited from leaving the amusement park before 5 a.m. without the written consent of an adult committee member. Graduates may, of course, attend the event stag, and guests outside the graduating class must be the date or escort of the graduating senior.

Park admission tickets will entitle the graduates to unlimited use of park facilities, except food, refreshments, souvenirs, games and the shooting gallery. Special entertainment will be provided by two popular rock music groups, Brownsville Station and Redbone.

KINGS ISLAND has established a dress style that must be followed in order to obtain admission. Boys must wear sport shirts with collars, long or short sleeves, dress slacks and dress shoes. Suit or sport coats are permitted. No shorts or blue jeans or tennis shoes will be allowed.

Girls must wear pantsuits, dress slacks and blouse, dresses and dress shoes. Low or high heels are optional. No shorts, midriffs, halters or blue jeans will be permitted.

The party will form at the high school at 9:30 p.m. and the students will promptly board chartered buses for the trip. Chaperones will be provided for each bus and will be available during the Kings Island activities for any special situations or requests which may develop. Upon return to the high school, at approximately 6:30 a.m. Saturday, breakfast will be served in the high school cafeteria to all graduates and their guests.

The total charge this year for the senior class party activities will be $13 per student or guest. Parents are asked to submit the amount before Monday, May 6. If the graduate is bringing a guest, an additional $13 must be included. Checks can be made payable to Senior Class Party.

Gerald Begin is serving as general chairman for the activity; Mr. and Mrs. William Mount are finance chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace are heading the attendance committee; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Heiny are the chairmen of the transportation committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox are breakfast chairmen. Mrs. Begin is serving as chaperone chairman.

Soy mixed with whey slated as food-for-peace item

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preschool children in foreign schools benefitting from the Food for Peace program soon will be getting their chance to identify with a slightly modernized, "Little Miss Muffett."

Rather than eating their "curds and whey," however, they will be drinking the whey-mixed with soy from soybeans in a dried beverage mix that costs less than half what nonfat dried milk does.

When it's mixed with water, the drink is 15 per cent solids, compared to 12½ per cent for milk. More important, the nutritionists said, it has the nutritional value of whole milk, unlike reconstituted nonfat dry.

In late March a large bid was accepted for a shipment, being delivered through the end of this month, of the whey-soy mix. Last week, another call went out, for 1.5 million pounds of it for delivery in June and July.

Meanwhile, the latest dairy-production figures available at USDA show production of nonfat dry milk, former staple of the program, was down 21 per cent in March from March 1973. The production of dry whey for human food was up 11 per cent.

Nonfat dry milk, supplies of which have been so tight that none has been included in Food for Peace donation purchases since before last June, represented $19.08 million of fiscal year 1973 shipments in the increasingly curtailed program.

20 students injured when stands collapse

MT. GILEAD, Ohio (AP) — Twenty Northmor High School students were injured Thursday when scaffolding some of them were standing on collapsed.

The students, high school choir members, were posing for a yearbook picture on the scaffolding and nearby bleachers when the accident occurred, a spokesman reported.

Three students were kept in area hospitals overnight for observation. One student suffered a broken ankle, but was sent home, after treatment.

The scaffolding had been used for a school musical last weekend, said Ned Forman, Northmor Local School District superintendent.

Wash., a bill to require the major oil companies to secure federal charters. Glenn blasted Metzbaum during a news conference in Cleveland Thursday for his reported statement that being in the military was not holding a job, and denounced the senator's alleged statement that "we demobilize our troops in Europe and rely on the nuclear deterrent."

Metzbaum issued a statement almost immediately accusing Glenn of "distorting my positions on issues."

Glenn's office said Metzbaum made the statement about military service at an April 18 fund-raising dinner in Cleveland and suggested the demobilization on a Columbus television program last Sunday.

He challenged Metzbaum to "look a disabled veteran in the eye and tell him he did not have a job."

And he charged the senator with "an appalling lack of understanding of foreign policy" and said reliance on a nuclear deterrent would be dangerous, and more expensive than maintaining the troop force.

Metzbaum denied he ever advocated total reliance on nuclear deterrents.

"I have repeatedly called for gradual, phased withdrawal of American troops stationed in Europe over a number of years," he said.

"This gradual approach would begin the process of changeover from foreign military spending to expenditures for sorely needed domestic programs, without adverse effect on national security."

In other campaign activity, state Rep. Charles E. Fry of Springfield, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, accused former Gov. James A. Rhodes of having a "public be damned" attitude.

Saying Rhodes has refused to make public his income tax statements and has rejected his offers for a debate, Fry declared:

"I believe the people want and deserve a much higher level of openness and accountability from their public officials. The day of the back-slapping politician with his propensity for cronyism is passe."

Rhodes, meanwhile, continued to ignore his primary election opponents and concentrated on Democratic Gov. John Gilligan's administration.

Campaigning in Cincinnati, Rhodes said 8,500 employees hired under Gilligan account for an expenditure of $85 million to $100 million annually.

"If the level of waste and mismanagement in the present administration continues," Rhodes said, "the present governor will have to raise the income tax just to keep even."

Rhodes said if the average income tax paid by Ohio families is $400 a year and the average state employee cost is $10,000, "it takes 25 families to pay one additional state employee."

Gilligan's news secretary, Robert Tenenbaum, said "the average tax liability for a family earning $10,000 with three children is $53."

He said Rhodes "has to be held accountable for saying those things and spouting off figures that are totally unrealistic."

Bert Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool, also seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination, told newsmen in Columbus he had rejected a suggestion from an unnamed representative of Fry to drop out of the race.

Dawson said his platform planks are: creating a state-level review of public education financing, earmarking state lottery proceeds for mass transportation, increasing gasoline taxes to help restore Ohio's dormant highway construction program and reconstituting the makeup of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

Gilligan's opponent for the Democratic nomination, James D. Nolan of Cleveland, told a Shaker Heights gathering he had saved taxpayers several thousand dollars by challenging Gilligan's use of a state airplane for political campaigning.

"It wasn't until I called a halt to this waste of state money that Mr. Gilligan said his campaign committee would reimburse the state for the plane's use," Nolan said.

He contended Ohio Democrats are faced with defeat if Gilligan is the standard bearer in November.

Nolan said he was asking for equal time from radio stations that have used any "announcements . . . concerning state operations since Feb. 6, 1974."

He claimed the broadcasting of films produced at state expense constituted a political contribution in violation of Ohio tax laws.

Students win poster awards

Five Washington Junior High School students have been notified that they received honorable mention awards in a poster contest which was held during Exceptional Children's Week in early April.

The five students, Pam Bobo, Becky Ragland, Linda Warner, Donna Poole and Nancy Welch, will receive their awards during the second annual Hopewell Chapter, Council for Exceptional Children, meeting at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Hillsboro High School.

The Hopewell chapter covers five counties. They are Fayette, Highland, Clinton, Brown and Adams counties.

Congressman William H. Harsha will present the awards at the meeting.

SPRING CONCERT — Charles Shaffer, music director at Washington Senior High School, prepares his choral groups for their Spring Concert Friday night. The concert includes songs performed by both the junior and senior high choirs and will begin at 8 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium.

Firemen make pair of runs

Smoking in bed and an electric cord which shorted-out were the causes of two fires Thursday.

Mary Grove, 705 E. Paint St., ignited a mattress while smoking in bed at 12:50 p.m. Thursday, firemen said. They were dispatched to the scene, found the fire out upon their arrival and estimated the damage at $20.

An electric cord on an ice machine shorted out at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, at the Belle Aire Beverage Center, 750 W. Elm St., causing a small fire. Once again the fire was out upon the arrival of firemen. Damage was to the electric cord only and was estimated at $10.

Check, wildlife charges aired in Municipal Court

Five persons were scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Thursday on non-traffic charges. Three violations were charged by State Game Protector Jerry Creameans. The three forfeited bond.

Judge Reed M. Winegardner fined Roger L. Moore, 23, of 706 W. Market St., $100 after finding him guilty of cashing a bogus $10 check at Crissinger's Tasty Shop. Moore also received a suspended 10-day jail term. James P. Rinehart, 51, of 1125 Campbell St., was fined $100 for disorderly conduct, but, the judge suspended half of the fine as well as a 10-day jail sentence.

Gregory M. Matson, 414 Earl St., and Mike L. McHone, Columbus, forfeited $25 each for fishing without licenses. Franklin Hall, Columbus, forfeited $25 bond each for operating a motor vehicle in an area prohibiting such vehicles.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Real estate brokers know that nothing sells a house more than an attractive kitchen.

If the kitchen is pleasing to the eye, prospective buyers are likely to overlook frailties in other parts of the house. If it isn't, the seller will have a more difficult time getting a family to appreciate the structure's more admirable qualities.

While appearance alone is usually a good key to the value of a kitchen, efficiency is a more important consideration. It's the work-saving kitchen that will be cherished in the years to come.

Unless you are having a house built to order, you must make your decision on what is already there. But more and more families are having their kitchens remodeled these days. When extensive changes must be made, kitchen remodeling is fairly expensive.

The trick, therefore, is to plan a kitchen that will meet both your needs and your budget. That calls for the inclusion of ideas that meet the special demands of your family and not just those which are incorporated into the kitchen of others.

YOUR CONTRACTOR can be of great help to you in making a decision on the type of kitchen necessary for your family, but you must be prepared to tell him in detail what your priorities are. There are a number of good books on the market that present guidelines, as well as building considerations and alternatives for you to apply during your planning.

One of the best of these, a newly revised edition of "Planning and Remodeling Kitchens" (Sunset Books), goes into all the details necessary to make your choices no matter what your life style, budget or available space.

There are five main types of kitchen layouts — a strip or one-wall kitchen; a pullman or two-wall kitchen; an L-shape kitchen; a U-shape kitchen, and a kitchen with an island. The one-waller is used in small-space situations, such as vacation cabins or apartments.

The pullman divides appliances and work areas between two parallel walls, creating a work triangle and more counter space, but with the disadvantage, in some cases, of having a corridor that encourages foot traffic. The L-shape kitchen divides appliances and counter space between two walls that meet at right angles.

The U-shaper, considered by many experts to be the most efficient floor plan, divides appliances and work areas among three connected walls arranged in a U configuration. The island kitchen has a free-standing unit as centrally located as possible and is especially useful in defining large kitchen spaces into functional work areas.

Dayton burial for actress

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Actress Agnes Moorehead, who died Tuesday in Rochester, Minn., will be buried in the Dayton Memorial Park Cemetery and Mausoleum, a spokesman said Thursday.

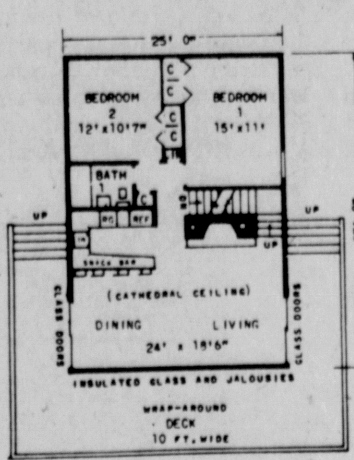

Miss Moorehead, whose father, the Rev. John H. Moorehead served as a Presbyterian minister in the Dayton area, purchased the plot several years ago, according to cemetery officials.

There will be no funeral, and graveside services will be private, at the actress' request.

Miss Moorehead, 67, spent much of her time on her 320-acre farm near Zanesville. The land had been in her family for more than a century.

She was best known for her role in the television series "Bewitched," and was seen Wednesday night in "Rex Harrison: Stories of Love," a show filmed two years ago.

Q. — I bought a house with a swimming pool which has a cover on it. After I take off the cover, what steps (other than a chlorine treatment, which I know about) should be taken to prepare the pool for use?

A. — After taking off the cover, clean up any debris. Turn on the skimmer, which you should have or get, but also dip out any bigger pieces by hand. Vacuum walls as necessary. With a vinyl-liner pool, this will be needed heavily only at the water line.

Concrete pools should be drained, all surfaces thoroughly scoured and washed and repainted as necessary. You might consider a new gadget that combines skimming the pool, drawing in the water and passing it through a filter, then distributing it, fed full of chemicals, through a mixing stream to the pool again.

Q. — I have heard that the best way to prevent dampness in a basement is to provide plenty of ventilation. But if the windows are open in damp weather, doesn't that bring in the high humidity that causes mildew?

A. — Yes. Ventilation should be governed by weather conditions. Windows should be kept closed during damp weather and rainy spells. You have to use your judgment in fair weather when it is bitter cold outside. Sometimes, opening them only 15 minutes twice a day will be sufficient. When a basement is excessively damp during hot, humid weather, the solution is the use of an exhaust fan, a dehumidifier or one of those air-conditioning units designed to dehumidify as well as cool.

Six per cent of all housing in Ohio is overcrowded, according to the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development.

2 men indicted on fraud charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County Grand Jury has indicted Emil R. George of Huntington, W. Va., and Charles L. Fryling of Riverside, Calif., in connection with what was termed a nationwide tape manufacturing fraud.

Indictments charged the pair with bilking over 300 investors in 19 states out of about $3 million. Twenty-four Ohio cities were involved.

Prosecutors said the two offered investors franchises for manufacture of eight-track tape recordings, saying their firm, Art Sales, Inc., would buy back the manufactured tape.

Ridge Homes has the home and the mortgage you need...with a down payment of just $100!

Eleven Dream Homes Under $17,990

THE SHERWOOD — $17,815* — Ridge Homes' most popular model. Features 3 bedrooms, full basement and a living room almost 23 feet long. What's more, the Sherwood, like all Ridge homes, comes with wall-to-wall carpeting, a complete kitchen, bathroom, plenty of closet space, lighting fixtures and just about everything you'd expect from one of the largest home builders in the United States. See us now!

There are eleven models priced between $14,610 and $17,920.

Fourteen Choices Under $21,990

THE CRESTWOOD — $19,555* — This bi-level has 3 large bedrooms on the upper level. The lower level has room for a great family room with an adjoining den, spacious utility room, powder room and garage. With Ridge Homes, you always get the home you want at a price you can afford. Reason enough for 25,000 families to choose Ridge. See for yourself!

There are fourteen models priced between $18,305 and $21,985.

Ten Distinctive Models Under $27,400

THE KIRKWOOD — $25,185* — Four bedrooms, 2½ baths, a living room over 25 feet long, a laundry, full basement, large closets... you get the idea. Cabinets, appliances, fixtures... everything comes with a Ridge home. You can save thousands by doing some of the interior finishing yourself! You'll find the whole story in the Ridge magazine.

There are ten models priced between $22,505 and $27,305.

Low Down Payment Mortgage Plans

HERE'S THE BEST PART — We have a choice of three mortgage plans for qualified buyers who own (or can get) a building lot free and clear. The down payment is almost always just $100. As one of America's largest home builders, we have our own financial resources to help our customers build their homes when they want them. Our rates are competitive, no "points" to pay, and closing costs are minimal.

*Prices shown are for homes semi-constructed on owner's lot and include materials, appliances and fixtures to completely finish the interior. Local taxes and transportation charges, landscaping, sidewalks and driveways are not included. An example of financing: an amount of $18,000, less the $100 down payment at an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 9.25% would require fifteen monthly payments of $150.01 each and then 177 payments of $186.64. Deferred payment price — $35,385.43, (the sum of the down payment plus all monthly payments over 16 years). Such Ridge mortgage plans not available in Vermont, Illinois, Maine, Kentucky, New Jersey and North Carolina. However, other attractive plans are.

Stop Waiting to get started on your dream home. You probably have all the cash you need. You'll find the whole exciting story in our free 88-page Ridge Homes Magazine. It features an article by Francis Reers who, like most of our customers, had a Ridge home built on his lot with just $100 down. Over 25,000 families own Ridge homes — and so can yours.

Just think...you can custom-design your home just as they did. You get the exact home you want, and an easy way to afford the home you choose. The Reers family saved $4,000 by doing some of the interior finishing themselves. Our free Ridge Magazine tells you how.

Centennial Derby has 23 contenders

Sports

Friday, May 3, 1974

Washington C. H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 12

Houk optimistic in late spring

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Detroit Manager Ralph Houk is loaded with late spring optimism.

The reason is obvious: The Tigers completed a sweep of a three-game series with the Kansas City Royals with Thursday night's 9-7 victory—their fifth consecutive triumph.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A mixture of 3-year-olds, including graduates of small track racing and major stakes winners such as Judger, was set to battle for glory and gold Saturday in the 100th Kentucky Derby.

The added prestige of this centennial Derby, the general inconsistency of this year's 3-year-olds and a record purse drew the most contenders ever for the famed 1 1/4-mile race at Churchill Downs.

If all 23 start, which would break the record of 22 in 1928 when Reigh Count won, the purse will be $326,500, with $274,000 to the winner. The big pot—the old record was $198,800 last year when Secretariat won—was due to a record 290 nominations at $100 each and increases from $2,500 to $4,000 to enter and from $1,500 to $3,500 to start.

The Woody Stephens-trained entry of Seth Hanock's Judger and John M. Olin's Cannonade was made the early 8-5 favorite Thursday while the Sigmond Sommer pair of Rube The Great and Accipiter was second at 9-2. "He's gonna be taken back anyway," Stephens said after the stretch-running Judger drew the No. 22 post position. The Blue Grass Stakes and Florida Derby winner will be ridden by Laffit Pincay Jr.

"The other horse can get a position fast," said Stephens of Stepping Stone winner Cannonade, who will start under Angel Cordero from the No. 2 post. In the No. 1 spot is Meeken Stable's Agitate, winner of five of six starts including the California Derby. Agitate is the third choice, at 5-1, and will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker.

"As long as I don't lose my jockey on the break, it doesn't matter what my position is," said Frank "Pancho" Martin, who trains Rube The Great and Accipiter. He was referring to Miguel A. Rivera, who fell off Accipiter shortly after the start of the Stepping Stone. When the field goes to the post at 5:30 p.m., EDT, Saturday, Rivera will be on Rube The Great, winner of divisions of the Gotham and Wood Memorial, in the No. 12 slot. Angel Santiago will start Accipiter from the No. 4 post.

Other trainers seemed to be more interested in the weather than the post positions. It rained Thursday, but no rain was forecast for Derby Day.

Monte Sims said Kenneth Optein's Destroyer, upset winner of the Santa Anita Derby, would not go on a muddy track.

"Everything is fine and it will even be better if it keeps raining," said Preston King, trainer of Samuel Lehrman's Triple Crown, a doubles stakes winner.

CBS television coverage is set for 5 p.m. to 6 p.m., EDT.

Testimony to end in Bergey case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The World Football League is expected to complete its defense today against the Cincinnati Bengals suit hoping to prove its right to exist as a competitor.

Testimony is expected to be completed this morning and lawyers from both sides are scheduled to present final arguments, along with briefs, to U.S. District Court Judge David S. Porter Wednesday.

The National Football League Bengals are seeking an injunction to stop the WFL from signing Bengal players to future contracts while they still are under Cincinnati contracts.

The Bengals also want to force the Virginia Ambassadors to take back a $150,000 bonus paid to linebacker Bill Bergey and his contract effective in 1976.

The Bengals said known offers to front line players can do irreparable damage to the team in efforts to win championships while those players' options are being played out.

Testimony so far indicated WFL offers have been made to linemen Pat Matson, John Shinnors and Rufus Mayes, center Bob Johnson, quarterback Ken Anderson, tight end Bob Trumpy and punter Dave Lewis.

The WFL maintains that its new league gives players a freedom of choice and allows them to improve their financial situation in the NFL because of the competition.

WFL attorneys and the Pro Football Players Association have attacked the "Rozelle Rule" under which, they say, players are prevented from playing with the teams of their own choice or from getting bigger salaries.

Under the rule, when a player plays a year beyond his signed contract, his option has run out.

Ellis worried about 'Blass-itis'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A minor case of misdirection or a serious control infection? That's the diagnostic question for "The Dock."

"I just hope it isn't Blassitis," says Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Dock Ellis, who hit three batters to open a game earlier this week with Cincinnati.

The "Blass-itis" reference, which followed Thursday night's rainout of a game with the Reds, was to one-time Pirate pitching ace Steve Blass.

Blass was stricken last season with an acute control infirmity, and now he's toiling in the minors.

Yet even Blass' wildest deliveries weren't as free-flying as the dozen Ellis cut loose to open a 5-3 loss to the Reds Wednesday night.

None of the pitches was a strike. He hit Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Dan Driessen before walking Tony Perez on four pitches to force in a run.

"I threw six warmup pitches when I took the mound and none of them were over the plate either, Ellis said with a relaxed grin after the Thursday night rainout, rescheduled as part of a July 14 doubleheader.

"The funny thing was that I wasn't wild at all when I was warming up in the bullpen," he added in detached amusement.

Ellis' three hit batsmen in one inning tied a major record held by eight other major league pitchers.

"But I'm really not worried that it's anything permanent," said Ellis, whose next start is slated for Sunday against the Atlanta Braves. The Braves open a weekend series here tonight.

"If anything, I'd have to say that maybe I was just too strong out there," he added.

"I had eight days off, including an extra day because of the rainout Tuesday, and that's too much time between starts.

Blancas putts to lead in Nelson Classic

DALLAS (AP) — Despite the rigors and pressures of the professional golf circuit, the game can be fun, says scrambling Homero Blancas.

"Yeah, it's fun out there when you can get it in close and make all those putts," he says.

"Once I get under par I have a tendency to keep on making birdies. I like to make a lot of birdies and then just go."

Such was the case Thursday as the free-wheeling tour veteran rode a hot putting streak and a pair of eagles to a six-under-par 65 and the first-round lead of the Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Blancas, whose protruding midriff reflects the good life, recorded a 33-32—65 on the 6,957-yard windswept and waterlogged Preston Trail course in the chase for the top prize of $30,000 in the $150,000 tourney.

That was good for a two-shot lead over a quartet that included Australians Bruce Crampton and Bruce Devlin, New Zealand's Bob Charles and unsung American Bob Payne.

A stroke back at 68 were John Mahaffey, Raymond Floyd, Jim Simons and Rick Rhoads, an unknown Californian who burned the back nine with a sizzling 31.

Lee Trevino, bidding for his first Texas victory, Ben Crenshaw and veterans Bobby Nichols, Billy Casper and Chi Chi Rodriguez headed a group at 69.

A record 30 players in the field of 150 broke par and 17 others equalled it, a fact attributed largely to the soft, true greens.

Blancas, the former University of Houston sharpshooter who has won five times on the tour, said he does not consider the leader's role an uncomfortable one.

"I like to get out front," he said. "I'm

"You've got to have those regular starts or you're going to have problems," he continued, "and I can't remember a year when I've had so many interruptions."

Ellis allowed just 33 walks last season, least among all Pirate starters, and he hit just one batter.

"I can remember a game against the Phillies in '70 when I was really wild," he recalled.

"I didn't make it through the first inning, and one guy stretched out and hit an outside pitch for a home run."

Ashe, Tanner pull comeback

MONTREAL (AP) — Americans Arthur Ashe and Roscoe Tanner scored a "normal" come-from-behind victory Thursday night as the $80,000 World Championship Tennis doubles championship began.

Ashe and Tanner, trailing 1-5 in the third set with the match tied 1-1, came back to capture a 7-6, 3-6, 7-6, 7-5 verdict over Ross Case and Geoff Masters of Australia in the opening match.

In the other first-round contest, Frew McMillan and Bob Hewitt of South Africa combined for a 6-4, 7-6, 3-6, 6-3 victory over Sweden's Ove Bengtson and Bjorn Borg.

After his match, Ashe said he and Tanner were kidding each other when they were down by four games in the third set.

"I turned around and told Roscoe that we've been in this position so many times, I'm not even worried," Ashe said.

"It seems like we're always down like this. This is normal for us."

After the short rest, Ashe returned to the court and held his serve to narrow the gap to 5-2. The Americans then turned the pressure on their opponents, breaking Case's serve in the eighth game and Masters' in the 10th to tie the match. They eventually won in a tiebreaker and steam-rolled the Australians in the fourth and deciding set.

Circleville bests field in SCOL

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor
CIRCLEVILLE — Although the South Central Ohio League track meet took three days to run, the teams were still unable to keep Circleville from the SCOL title. As predicted prior to the meet, the Tigers captured their fifth consecutive crown with a 12½ point margin over Hillsboro, Thursday evening.

In the final outcome, the main difference was the Indians' ability to score in the lower three places. Considering first and second places, Hillsboro grabbed six firsts and five seconds compared to Circleville's five firsts and six seconds. However, the Tigers were aided by five thirds, five fourths and two fifth places; while Hillsboro could only manage three thirds and two fourths.

Despite the damp and chilly weather, four new SCOL records were set during the meet. Hillsboro's Jim Buck established two of the new marks in the mile and 880. Buck was clocked in 4:34.6 in the mile and 2:00.5 in the 880.

Hillsboro's mile relay team broke Franklin Heights' 1959 mark of 3:36.2 by running the four laps in 3:34.3. Reggie Radcliff cleared 13' for a new record in the pole vault.

Both of Fayette County's first places were recorded by Washington Senior High tracksters. Tom Allen bested the field in the high hurdles with a time of 16.3. Chuck Wilson leaped 20'8" to win the long jump championship.

Unioto, competing in the SCOL meet for the first time, ran into a lot of problems prior to the meet. The Shermans, who were expected to give Washington a tough battle for third place, had to go without the services of two of their top tracksters. Randy Sprouse still had not recovered from his pulled hamstring and he missed the 100, 220, long jump and mile relay. Ron Hannan, one of the top quarter-milers in the SCOL and a member of the mile relay team, honored the Unioto teachers' strike and did not cross the picket line.

Hall sidelined by cut finger

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds ace reliever Tommy Hall was scheduled to return home today for further medical examination after he severely cut the middle finger of his pitching hand in the shower room at Pittsburgh.

"It didn't hurt. I didn't even know I'd done it until I saw the bleeding," said the lefthander who has given up only one run in nine innings of relief work this season.

Hall is expected to miss at least two weeks. Rookies Pat Osborn was elevated to the short relief spot. Hall received seven stitches and a small cast on the finger.

Hall was injured after the Reds-Pirates game was called because of rain. He said the soap dish in the shower room was broken and he cut himself on a jagged edge.

"The doctor said he could see the tendon and said if I'd cut it I would have had big trouble," said the 26-year-old hurler in obvious relief.

"I've got to find out what he can do," said Manager George "Sparky" Anderson of his decision to use Osborn, "and this is as good a time as any."

Meanwhile, the Reds were reacting to a decision of an arbitration board that reversed fines placed last year against outfielder Bobby Tolan. The arbitrators ruled the Reds must return $350 in fines to Tolan, who is now with the San Diego Padres.

Reds President Bob Howsam branded the decision "very unfair."

"Our people here and our fans are aware of what happened and many of them saw for themselves at the ball park. To us, that is the important thing."

The ruling followed a hearing in Detroit in January by a board that included Detroit arbitrator Gabriel Alexander, Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association and John Gaharin representing the owners.

Anderson said he had "no feelings about it" although he blamed himself earlier for Tolan's dispute with management.

"The ball club has been fair always to everyone," said catcher John Bench. "It wanted to win the case, but since Tolan was gone, didn't try. It presented it's case without really any witnesses."

Joe Morgan, second baseman, said the ruling was just "because the first problem started with the club." Pete Rose agreed.

Walton to ink contract with NBA's Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — Bill Walton, UCLA's basketball superstar with an inclination toward gardening, will sign to play with the Portland Trail Blazers of the National Basketball Association, says the red-haired All-American's lawyer.

It is estimated Walton will receive at least $2 million in the multiyear agreement.

"He wants to buy acreage in a secluded area and raise vegetables," said Sam Gilbert, Walton's business adviser.

Walton will travel to Portland Saturday after signing a contract to play for the Trail Blazers, Herman Sarkowsky, president of the team, said Thursday.

The 6-foot-11, 220-pound center has kept his intentions a mystery since finishing his college career and indicated at one time he might not even play professional basketball if it meant he had to move from the West Coast.

The San Diego Conquistadors hold the American Basketball Association rights to Walton but were unsuccessful in trying to woo him to play for the ABA in his hometown.

Two groups hoping to establish ABA franchises in Los Angeles also wanted Walton, who in three seasons at UCLA became the most accurate shooter in National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball history, making 65 per cent of his shots.

The ABA offers may have exceeded

Portland's in terms of cash, but Gilbert said variables other than economics influenced Walton's decision. The Encino, Calif., businessman was reached by phone in California.

Portland picked Walton as its first draft choice after a coin flip with Philadelphia, which shared last-place with the Trail Blazers in the final NBA standings.

Gilbert said Walton would notify the losers personally in the bidding for his services.

Erving sparks Nets' win

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The Utah Stars, burned by Julius Erving's fireworks, hunted today for a way to defuse the New York Nets in the American Basketball Association championship series.

The Stars, usually known for their scoring outbursts, were groping for a defensive strategy to hinder New York's Dr. J Saturday night in game No. 2 of the best-of-seven series.

A 47-point scoring display by Erving, the ABA's Most Valuable Player, led the Nets to the 89-85 victory Tuesday night while shooting difficulties plagued most of the other players in the game.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 1203
April has been a pretty full month for Girl Scout Troop 1203. In April we made string art pictures of crosses for Easter. We have planned a camping trip with another troop and made Mother's Day gifts for our mothers. We worked on Magic Show posters, for the show planned for May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Washington Junior High School.

On April 25 we attended a meeting with Troop 612, with whom we will go on the camping trip.

We completed plans for the bake sale to be held at Buckeye Mart and also at the Downtown Drug Store at 10 a.m.

Spiritism has big following among Latins

By ELAINE DE ABREU
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Spiritism—a religion that believes in clairvoyance and reincarnation—is active in this South American country. But Brazilian mediums are critical of U. S. spiritualists who charge money for seances.

"Mediums should always work for free," said Reinaldo Soares Pinheiro, general secretary of the Sao Paulo Spiritist Federation. "The Gospel says that mediumistic powers are given free. But we know that some mediums in the United States charge for their services."

Brazilian spiritists say they are among the few true followers of spiritual principles codified by French thinker Alain Kardec. Mediums here make it a point to differentiate themselves from most of their counterparts in the United States. "There they call it spiritualism. In Brazil it's spiritism," Pinheiro explained.

One exception is the Christian Spirit Center in Elon College, N. C., which Brazilians say was founded by their most famous medium, Francisco Xavier.

Two persons charged in city mishaps

Six accidents were reported in Washington C.H. Thursday, and two people were cited by city police for traffic violations.

8:46 p.m. — A minor accident involved a car driven by Mary F. Williams, 20, of 717 Brown St., and a parked automobile owned by Clarence J. Tipton, Sabina, in the Econ-O-Wash lot, 420 W. Oakland Ave.

6:48 p.m. — An accident at the Court and Fayette street intersection involved cars driven by Betty Lou Sicker, 43, Rt. 6 and Maynard W. Carr, 67, of 523 N. North St. Damage was minor to the Carr car and moderate to the Sicker vehicle. Both drivers told police they had the green light.

4:42 p.m. — A three-car accident occurred in the 900 block of Columbus Avenue, involving cars driven by Loucreatie Cohagen, 19, Columbus; Clark M. Leeth, 48, of 834 Broadway, and Darrell D. Marks, 36, Rt. 5.

The Cohagen car struck the Leeth vehicle in the rear and then glanced off into the oncoming traffic, hitting the Marks car.

Ms. Cohagen was cited by police for not maintaining an assured clear distance. Her car and the Leeth vehicle were moderately damaged, while the Marks auto had only slight damage.

Clark was charged with reckless operation by police. His semi was damaged severely and the parked car slightly. (See photo).

3:44 p.m. — A minor accident between cars driven by Chris A. Eley, 17, Greenfield, and Glenn H. Morrow, 23, of 1025 Dayton Ave., occurred at the intersection of Columbus Avenue and Elm Street.

11:48 a.m. — Moderate damage was reported in a collision between a truck driven by Leroy E. Mongold, 19, of 217 East St., and a van driven by Mark D. Thellmann, 14½ S. Fayette St., in an accident on Washington Avenue, near the Grove Avenue intersection.

GOP hopefuls speak during club meeting

Fayette County commissioner candidates John E. Rhoads, J.W. (Boots) Sears and Carl Wilt Sr., reviewed their qualifications and discussed their views of county-wide progress and problems during a meeting of the Fayette County Republican Club Thursday night in the Benton Room of the Washington Hotel.

James A. Kiger, unopposed candidate for county prosecuting attorney, and Richard Keiser and John L. Rhoad, candidates seeking a seat on the Republican Central Committee from Union Township, also addressed club members.

Mrs. Charlene Cunningham, a Republican member of the Fayette County Board of Elections, explained the boundary that divides Fayette County, placing the eastern townships in the 88th Ohio House District and the western townships and the city of Washington C.H. in the 77th House District.

Rhoad, president of the Fayette County Republican Club, said during a wide-ranging discussion, two areas of possible Republican club activity in the future included sponsoring a practical politics course prepared by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and regular meetings to update members and other interested citizens on the status of legislation before Congress and the Ohio Legislature.

In a case reported in 1888, a 15-year-old female patient yawned continuously for a period of five weeks.

A FALL SCENE? — Yes, the leaves fell about six months prematurely Thursday afternoon in the vicinity of the Washington Lumber Co. In fact, most of the tree fell: The semi driver, David A. Clark, 23, Zanesville, was charged by city police with reckless operation when he apparently took a corner too wide and collided with the tree, which, in turn, fell on a parked car.

Dean testimony

allow extra time for the panel's staff to work information from the White House transcripts into the final report.

Wednesday, Samuel Dash, the committee's chief counsel, said the deadline would be met but that the committee might decide to file a supplemental report at a later date if that became necessary.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said no such request had been made to him but that he expects the Senate would be sympathetic if the request were made.

"Much of the testimony of John Dean has been corroborated," Baker said, adding that he based his opinion on reading about half of the massive set of transcripts.

He said any evidence of conflicting statements and apparent perjury would be given to the Justice Department for possible prosecution.

Baker also advised the House Judiciary Committee now considering Nixon's possible impeachment to "keep its cool" in dealing with the White House.

"I rather expect if they keep patient there will be more evidence from the White House to come," he said without elaborating.

Baker also said it is his opinion the House panel should be allowed to complete the impeachment investigation before the Watergate committee issues its report.

The Tennessee Republican said he would not be surprised if special prosecutor Leon Jaworski asked for a similar delay until the trials of the Watergate cover-up defendants are completed.

The White House transcript supports Dean's testimony that he told the President March 21, 1973, that Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt was demanding $120,000 to remain silent and that Nixon told Dean it would be no problem to raise $1 million in cash for such purposes.

Ervin noted that H.R. Haldeman, the former White House chief of staff, testified under oath he had listened to the tape of that meeting and that Nixon had said that while there would be no problem in raising the money it would be "wrong" to do so.

"The transcript puts that word, that quotation, somewhere else," Ervin said.

"It has nothing to do with the payment of money," he said. "On the contrary, they were discussing executive clemency and the transcript indicated the President said they couldn't grant it before the (1972) elections and that Mr. Dean said that it would be a very unwise policy to grant executive clemency after the elections."

"And that is when the President said, 'that would be wrong,'" Ervin told reporters. He added: "That means, as I construe it, that it would be politically wrong. Not that there would be any immoral iniquity in it, but just politically wrong."

SWORL group holds meeting

Sixty Southwestern Ohio Rural Library trustees, librarians and special guests from Adams, Brown, Clinton, Clermont, Fayette and Highland counties met at the Elks Country Club in Hillsboro to hear Jerry Grim, director, and Emelyne Ely Reed, president of the Ohio Valley Area Libraries organization board.

The OVAL organization is the first state funded, multi-county library system in Ohio. The organization's headquarters is located in Wellston.

Special guests included Sen. Max Dennis, Chapman Parsons, Ohio Library Association executive director, and Mrs. Parsons; and John Phillip, state library consultant.

Attending from the Carnegie Public Library in Washington C.H. were Kris Amsbary, librarian; Kathryn Lee, trustee; Jeannette Coffee, Martha Gardner and Evelynne Entekin, staff members.

Impeachment panel OKs participation

St. Clair wins probe role

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee, clearing the way for the crucial phase of its impeachment inquiry, has given President Nixon's lawyer a major role in the proceedings.

Under rules approved unanimously by the committee Thursday, White House lawyer James St. Clair will be able to question witnesses, raise objections and propose witnesses.

The rules and the Democratic majority's support of them helped restore harmony in the committee after its party-line split Wednesday when Nixon was found in non-compliance with the committee's subpoena for Watergate tapes.

Adoption of the rules marked the final step in the long preparation for receiving evidence that the committee has been engaged in since January. Starting next week it will begin examining the information on which it will base a judgment as to whether Nixon should be impeached.

The rules include a provision permitting hearings to be televised if the committee decides to open them to the public. Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the first week of the hearings would be closed.

Those first four or five days will be taken up by a presentation to the committee of the secret grand jury evidence relating to Nixon's role in the Watergate cover-up and other information covering a wide range of alleged presidential misconduct.

The committee's ornate hearing room will be fitted out with electronic equipment to permit the playing of tapes, so that each of the 38 members has his own headset and set of transcripts.

Although Nixon refused to give the committee the 42 tapes it subpoenaed April 11, furnishing edited transcripts instead, he previously had turned over 19 tapes that already had been given to the Watergate grand jury. These include the controversial March 21 tape of Nixon's conversation with his former counsel, John W. Dean III.

The role given to St. Clair makes it clear that he is subject to the control of the committee and has no independent right to be present.

The Constitution gives the House the sole right of impeachment, but historically counsel for the subject of the inquiry has been granted some opportunity to participate.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the rules, said they were based on a desire to be fair to Nixon. Rep. Thomas F. Ricksback, R-Ill., ranking Republican on the subcommittee, praised the Democrats for their support, saying they had "leaned over backward" to assure St. Clair's participation.

However, some Democrats said they felt the committee was being too generous. Rep. George E. Danielson, D-Calif., tried to eliminate St. Clair's right to raise objections, saying the committee was giving St. Clair the opportunity to turn what should be a fact-finding investigation into a full-scale trial.

But Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., citing past impeachment proceedings in which counsel for the person under investigation was allowed to take part, said "it is better to let St. Clair become the 39th member of the committee than to deny him his procedural rights."

'Somebody lying' in ethics probe

By TERESA C. PITTS
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More investigation is needed to determine who's lying about who paid for and distributed unethical campaign material about U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Thursday.

Brown postponed a ruling on the allegation Thursday after listening to conflicting statements from at least seven witnesses, most of them connected with the campaign staff of John G. Glenn, Metzenbaum's opponent for the May 7 Democratic nomination.

"Somebody is lying somewhere. There's definitely perjury," Brown said after the five-hour hearing.

He said another hearing will be held probably within two weeks after the primary. Meanwhile, transcript's of Thursday's session will be turned over to the attorney general for possible filing of criminal charges, Brown said.

Two former Glenn campaign workers in Mahoning County have accused the candidate of surreptitious distribution of campaign material linking Metzenbaum to President Nixon's tax troubles and to Communist front groups. Neither items listed sources, which is against state law.

Don L. L. Hanni Jr., formerly Glenn's Mahoning County coordinator, told the panel of election board members some 500 copies of a bumper sticker saying "Nixon Metzenbaum-Tax Consultants" were delivered to the Youngstown headquarters April 12.

The delivery was made by Gary Vigorito, Glenn's northeastern Ohio coordinator, along with instructions not to reveal its source, Hanni testified.

Later, Vigorito, under oath, testified he knew nothing about the bumper stickers. He submitted a list of witnesses whom he said could verify his presence in Columbus all day April 12.

Hanni testified he at no time personally distributed either the bumper sticker nor a letter said was given him April 20 to circulate titled, "New U.S. Senator Has Red Front Group Record."

Hanni's statements were substantiated by a fellow former campaign worker, George Skajac of Youngstown, who said he quit the Glenn staff April 20 in protest of the literature.

Both denied personal distribution, or

William R. Brown, a school teacher from North Lima, testified later that Hanni had given him at least 20 copies of the bumper sticker for use in his state government classes.

At the time, Brown said Hanni mentioned the stickers came from an organization "that sounded something like raft." Brown said he learned later that RAFT is short for Rank And File Team, an unofficial political information arm of the United Steel Workers.

Another Mahoning County worker, Gary Litch, testified that he had been given bumper stickers to circulate as early as April 9.

But Litch denied reports that the materials came from RAFT. Litch's father, William Litch, is head of the organization.

Litch said Hanni and Skajac had been unhappy with assistance they were getting from Glenn's state headquarters.

On the night of April 20, Litch said Hanni and Vigorito had quarreled and

Oil association sues Metzenbaum for $11 million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Petroleum Marketers Association and Parmar Oil Co. of Marietta filed suit today against U.S. Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, charging he made slanderous statements against the oil industry.

The suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court asks for $1 million in compensatory damages and $10 million in punitive damages.

The suit comes just four days before Ohio's May 7 primary election, in which Metzenbaum faces opposition for the Democratic nomination.

The association is a trade organization composed of distributors of oil products. Parmar is one of its members.

The suit is a class action suit on behalf of all oil distributors.

The distribution industry said Metzenbaum, in April, was responsible for publication of numerous "false, defamatory and libelous statements concerning the plaintiffs, tending to subject them to public hatred and contempt."

The industry said Metzenbaum, in radio and television campaign commercials, had used statements to the effect that the marketers of petroleum products had "raped the public."

"Defendant, as a member of the United States Senate, will know that the prices of petroleum products are controlled by the federal government and that the price of said products from refiner to service station operator is established by the United States government and not by the seller of said products," the industry argued.

The Standard Oil Co. of Ohio has been a main target of Metzenbaum's criticism. The senator earlier this week asked the Federal Energy Office to investigate a 6-cent per gallon gasoline price hike ordered by Sohio.

Metzenbaum, however, has blamed the entire industry for rising fuel costs and the energy crises.

The OPMA members are independent businessmen who purchase their products from the major oil companies and resell them to retail service station dealers and other retailers of petroleum products.

At a news conference, Roger F. Dreyer, executive vice president of the OPMA, said there were "no political motives" behind the lawsuit.

"He accused us of rape on television," Dreyer added.

Dreyer said the OPMA office here had been swamped by telephone calls from irate members as a result of

Metzenbaum's attacks on television and in the press.

Metzenbaum's news secretary, John Esposito, said, "I would point out that Mr. Roger Dreyer, who is director of the petroleum marketers, is a financial contributor to John Glenn's campaign. I don't really know enough about the suit to comment at the moment."

"Certainly, every citizen of Ohio has evidence to back up the claim made in April," Esposito said.

"I think this may shed some light on why Mr. Glenn has been reluctant to attack oil companies," Esposito said. Glenn is Metzenbaum's opponent for the Democratic nomination.

Transcript shows 2nd burglary

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's tape transcripts indicate that the White House Plumbers did pull a Las Vegas burglary, contrary to testimony given to the Senate Watergate committee.

Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt told the committee last Sept. 24 that he and another member of the secret White House intelligence-gathering unit that became known as the Plumbers planned to burglarize the office of Las Vegas Publisher Hank Greenspun.

But, Hunt said, the burglary never came off.

In the White House tape transcripts, presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman said it did.

Purpose of the burglary, according to Hunt's testimony, was to get some information on Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine which reportedly would cripple Muskie's fledgling presidential campaign.

The planning took place, Hunt indicated, between December 1971 and March 1972.

Hunt said the plan was formulated with the help of representatives of millionaire Howard Hughes who also wanted some material reported to be in Greenspun's safe.

He testified that the Hughes people promised to give the Plumbers such support services as hotel rooms and automobiles.

The plan never worked, Hunt said because the Hughes people refused to give the would-be burglars an escape airplane.

Glenn wins Jackie Onassis' endorsement

By The Associated Press

John Glenn received an endorsement from Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Thursday and U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum courted United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock as the race for the Democratic Senate nomination entered the stretch.

The two candidates were to have their final face-to-face confrontation today in a noon debate before the Cleveland City Club. Both planned to spend the rest of the day wooing votes in Cleveland.

A Glenn aide said words of support from Mrs. Onassis, widow of President John F. Kennedy and now the wife of Greek shipping magnate Aristotle

Onassis, will be broadcast in radio and television commercials "as soon as possible."

In a message taped over the telephone from her New York City apartment, Mrs. Onassis said, "John Glenn's leadership would be a shining light in the United States Senate."

She said she and all Americans remember when the former astronaut "became our national hero, when he made us feel pride in America that we had not felt for a long time."

Mrs. Onassis spoke on the telephone with Jim Dunn, a former aide to her brother-in-law, the late U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy, who was assassinated in 1968.

Dean testimony OK, solons say

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ranking Republican and Democrat on the Senate Watergate committee say presidential transcripts largely corroborate the sworn testimony of John W. Dean III despite White House claims that he is a liar.

In separate statements, Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and Vice Chairman Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said Thursday the transcripts tend to bolster the credibility of Dean, the former White House counsel who became President Nixon's chief accuser.

At a Philadelphia news conference, Baker also said the committee's final report may be delayed beyond the May 28 target date because the transcripts have opened "new lines of inquiry—including the search for possible perjury by Nixon's associates at last summer's hearings."

In Washington, Ervin described the transcripts as "revealing and astounding" and said they "very strongly corroborate" Dean's Watergate testimony.

He contended the transcripts cast a different light on the President's story that he told Dean it would be wrong to offer executive clemency to the Watergate defendants. The White House said when it released the edited transcripts this week that they clearly showed Nixon's innocence of complicity in the Watergate break-in and

4 suspects freed in Zebra probe: lack of evidence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Four of seven men arrested in connection with a wave of "Zebra" murders here have been freed for lack of evidence, police say.

Police Sgt. William Kearny identified those freed Thursday night as Thomas Manney, 31, a star football player at San Francisco State University in the early 1960s; Clarence Jamerson, 37; Dwight Stallings, 28; and Edgar Burton, 22.

They had been booked for investigation of conspiracy to commit murder.

Kearny said the four were released because it became evident "during the course of the investigation that no further procedures against them are feasible at this time."

He said Chief of Inspectors Charles Barca planned a news conference on the matter today.

But formal murder and other charges had been filed against the three other men still in custody—Larry C. Green, 22; J.C. Simon, 29; and Manuel Moore, 29, police said. They are to appear Monday before a county grand jury.

Maryland court disbars Agnew

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Calling Spiro T. Agnew morally obtuse, the Maryland Court of Appeals has prohibited the former vice president from practicing law.

"It is difficult to feel compassion for an attorney who is so morally obtuse that he consciously cheats for his own pecuniary gain that government he has sworn to serve, completely disregards the words of the oath he uttered when first admitted to the bar and absolutely fails to perceive his professional duty to act honestly in all matters," the court said.

The state's highest court disbarred Agnew on Thursday because he pleaded no contest last October to a charge he evaded about $13,500 in federal taxes when he was governor of Maryland in 1967.

Agnew was not a member of the federal bar, and his disbarment in Maryland prevents his practicing law elsewhere.

The ruling affirmed a recommendation in January by a three-judge circuit court panel which heard the case brought against Agnew by the Maryland Bar Association.

Agnew, who was unavailable for comment, cannot appeal the decision but could petition the court for reinstatement as a lawyer at any time.

Massive Penn Central fraud cost billions, SEC claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has accused the Penn Central Co. and two of its former officers of scheming in 1968 and 1969 to defraud investors in the then-newly-formed Penn Central railroad.

The SEC complaint, filed in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia, alleges the defendants sought to inflate earnings and hide losses to disguise the critical financial condition of the railroad. It claims the defendants even borrowed money to pay cash dividends as part of the scheme.

Named in the civil complaint—no criminal charges are involved—are the Penn Central Co., Stuart T. Saunders of Ardmore, Pa., former chief executive officer of the company; and David C. Bevan of Gladwyne, Pa., a former top financial officer of Penn Central.

Fourteen other defendants also are named, among them the New York accounting firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., which the SEC said aided in preparing false and misleading financial statements for the company.

The Penn Central railroad collapsed in 1970—two years after it was formed through the merger of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central. It has been run since 1970 by trustees while undergoing reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

The SEC complaint alleges that collapse of the railroad cost shareholders and investors billions of dollars.

In addition to the fraud complaint, the SEC charged Bevan and three others with diverting $4 million in corporate funds to private bank accounts in the tiny European country of Lichtenstein.

It also alleged that Bevan violated federal securities laws by selling 15,000 shares in the railroad in 1969 at a time he was aware of the company's critical financial position but the public was not.

Xavier students routed by blaze

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — More than 200 Xavier University students were routed from Husman Hall by fire Thursday.

Damage to the building and its lounge was estimated at $50,000. The fire was blamed on careless smoking. Xavier officials said Husman Hall's fire alarm has been out of service since Good Friday because of a part malfunction. Assistant deans had to alert the students.

Nuisance law upheld by court

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's nuisance law was upheld Thursday in a decision by a three-judge panel in U.S. District Court.

The law was challenged by a number of local book stores padlocked by local authorities for allegedly selling pornographic material.

officials of the court of appeals said.

In a unanimous 13-page opinion from the seven judges, the court said it considered tax evasion a crime involving moral turpitude, fraud and deceit and as such required disbarment under state law, court rulings and the ethical rules of the American Bar Association.

The judges said they found no mitigating circumstances to grant requests by Agnew and his lawyer, Leon H.A. Pierson, that the former public official merely be suspended from practicing law, his profession before entering politics full time in 1962.

The judges said failure to disbar Agnew would be a travesty of their responsibility to uphold the integrity of the legal profession and prevent individual lawyers from hurting its image.

Agnew, who was fined $10,000 and placed on three years probation by the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, had asked the circuit court panel last December to leave him with the means to earn a living.

Since then, he has announced he is writing a novel about the vice presidency. Persons in the publishing industry have predicted the book should earn Agnew $100,000 or more.

The commission asked the court to order Bevan to refund profits from the stock transactions and, along with defendants Fidel Goetz of West Germany, Joseph Rosenbaum of McLean, Va., and Francis Rosenbaum, whom the SEC said currently was incarcerated on other charges in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., to account for and refund the $4 million.

By The Associated Press
A weather system that has been bringing showers to Ohio is scheduled to end today—but only briefly before a chance of showers and thundershowers returns to the state late Friday as a cold front approaches from the northwest.

Temperatures Friday are scheduled to climb into the 70s in all sections ahead of the advancing cool air. The cold front is expected to enter the state from the northwest Friday afternoon and march across Ohio by sometime tonight. Temperatures drop rather rapidly behind the front as the cold air is brought down from Canada by brisk northwest winds.

The mercury will fall tonight into the upper 30s in the northern counties and the 40s over the rest of the state.

Saturday will come under the influence of high pressure. Mostly sunny skies and cool temperatures are expected. Highs Saturday will range from the low 50s in the north to the low 60s in the south.

A chance of showers are forecast Sunday and Monday, followed by fair skies Tuesday. Highs will range from the 60s to low 70s. Lows will be in the upper 30s and the 40s.

Frost nips midsection

By The Associated Press
Frost nipped parts of the nation's midsection today, while high winds whistled across the Plains.

A cold front moved into the upper Great Lakes region, the middle Mississippi Valley and the central Plains and sent the mercury below freezing in parts of the north-central states.

Winds gusted to 73 m.p.h. at Yankton, S.D., and hit 59 m.p.h. at Hill City, Kan., and 45 m.p.h. at Kansas City.

Scattered showers and thundershowers continued to dampen the central Plains and upper Great Lakes, and drizzle misting over the Ohio Valley turned to light rain from the Appalachians to the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Occasional thundershowers also soaked parts of the Gulf Coast. A chartered bus skidded off Interstate 75 during a rainstorm Thursday night near Cassville, Ga., injuring a dozen persons in a school group returning home to Michigan from Disney World. None was hurt seriously.

Most of the Pacific Coast was under clouds, but clear skies prevailed in the Plateau, the Rockies, Northern and Southern Plains and New England.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 at Laramie, Wyo., to 81 at Needles, Calif.

Milk money testimony disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the nation's largest dairy cooperative allegedly tried to pay $150,000 to presidential fund-raiser Herbert L. Kalmbach to reduce a government antitrust suit to a "wrist slap," according to a statement filed in court.

The charge in the court document was attributed to Bob A. Lilly, former lobbyist for Associated Milk Producers Inc.

Lilly also was quoted in the statement as saying that top officials of the organization told him up to $2 million had been pledged earlier to President Nixon's campaign as a "commitment of money made in conjunction with the 1971 price support" increase ordered by Nixon.

The 1971 price increase and the government's still-pending antitrust lawsuit both are subjects of the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry. The committee is said to be requesting 45 White House tape recordings related to the price-support decision.

Lilly testified under immunity last year before the Senate Watergate Committee and a Watergate grand jury. Subsequently he was interviewed Dec. 27 and 28 by Edward L. Wright, a former president of the American Bar Association who was conducting an independent inquiry for the cooperative's board of directors.

Typewritten notes of the Lilly interview became public this week after the Justice Department antitrust division subpoenaed Wright's notes and papers.

Lilly's quoted statement is the first eyewitness allegation of an attempt to derail the antitrust suit. Also, it is the first assertion attributed to an official of the cooperative linking the 1971 price increase to promises of campaign money.

OEA delegates set Saturday spring meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 1,000 delegates will gather at the state fairgrounds Saturday for a spring meeting of the Ohio Education Association to consider new policies on teacher accountability and teacher education.

Reports will be given by special committees which have studied the issues for several months.

Delegates also are expected to act on appointments to a new OEA Appeals Board, amendments to the OEA Constitution and bylaws and an amended budget for the coming year.

that later, Hanni told him he had been offered an opportunity "to go over to the other side."

Vigorito claimed that on that evening he had returned to the Youngstown office to find "what looked like a fraternity party," and had fired Hanni. Vigorito said he's been unhappy with Hanni's overall performance as county coordinator.

At no time prior to this had they made their feelings about the campaign literature known to anyone on Glenn's staff other than Vigorito, both Hanni and Skaljac testified.

After the incident, the two said they filed a formal complaint about the literature with Don R. Gosney, Columbian County Election Board member and an administrative assistant to Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio.

Hays is chairman of the House Administrations Committee which handles federal election violations, they said. They said they found this out from reading a book.

Gosney testified he forwarded their complaints to Hays, then held a press conference to announce the allegations without either the knowledge or consent of Skaljac or Hanni.

He said he made no attempt to verify the complaint or to talk to Glenn headquarters.

"That's not part of my job," he said.

After the April 20 incident, Skaljac said he'd had only one contact with Glenn campaign officials. He said he telephoned Warren Baltimore, Glenn's fund-raiser, who allegedly threatened to "remember this."

Asked if this contributed to his intention to make the accusations public, Skaljac replied: "I wanted him to really remember it if he wanted to remember it."

Stock list falls back

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pulled back today in the face of signs that upward pressure on interest rates was continuing.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.83 at 847.23, and declines outnumbered advances by more than 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was light.

Analysts said investors were disappointed at figures from the Federal Reserve which showed continued strong demand for loans at major New York banks, despite the present high cost of borrowing.

British Petroleum, down 1/4 at 12 1/2, was the Big Board's most active stock.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .35 at 90.34.

Israel wants cease-fire with Syria

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel called for a cease-fire on the Golan Heights and reported no progress toward a disengagement agreement with Syria as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger prepared to shuttle on to Damascus today.

Kissinger met for eight hours with Israeli leaders Thursday, and afterword Information Minister Shimon Peres said "meaningful and worthwhile" negotiations with Syria can only occur after a cease-fire in the artillery and air war that their forces have been waging for nearly two months.

"We believe the negotiations would work best if there was no pressure by either side, and particularly if military actions were stopped," Peres told newsmen.

He emphasized that his remarks were not an ultimatum to the Syrians. But he added: "We will await Syrian reaction."

As Kissinger and the Israelis talked, Israel escalated the fighting on the northern front. The Israeli command said its artillery landed shells within nine miles of Damascus and its planes attacked bases of the Palestine guerrillas on the Lebanese side of Mt. Hermon. The Israelis denied a Syrian claim that Syrian missiles shot down two Israeli jet fighters.

Peres told newsmen that in meetings with Kissinger, Premier Golda Meir, premier-designate Yitzhak Rabin and other political and military leaders gave him only "general principles" to take to Damascus, and that no progress was made in eliminating the conflicts in the Israeli and Syrian disengagement proposals.

Cleveland seeks money for raises

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The city may have to pay unemployment compensation for 525 employees it is laying off to save $4.4 million to cover raises for other city employees, an official of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said Thursday.

If employees earn $20 gross pay in the 20th week of the fiscal year, they would be eligible, a local office manager said.

The administration had planned to lay off the employees one day short of the 20-week eligibility period required by state law. But the layoff date of May 16 is a Thursday, four days into the 20th week.

Unemployment compensation would mean from $77 to $114 a week for 20 weeks for workers laid off, the official said.

The city agreed to pay members of nine unions a wage increase of 37 cents

Court upholds vo-ed school authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Vocational education courses within the state public school system are "proper and necessary," the Ohio Supreme Court agreed Thursday.

It let stand a Wyandot County Common Pleas Court dismissal of a lawsuit brought by R. Dennis Barnes of Upper Sandusky against local and state education officials.

Barnes said the vocational job training aspects of the courses did not fall within the scope of "common school" courses as provided by law.

The trial court, which earlier was upheld by the Third District Court of Appeals, said the last setting up the school system "in no way limits the power of the General Assembly to provide for vocational schools."

The court agreed to review the conviction of a Columbus man on charges of nudity and improper dress after police found him in a car wearing a woman's clothing.

John "Terry" Barnes said the Columbus city ordinance under which he was tried was "unconstitutionally vague" because it didn't explain what conduct was forbidden.

The court agreed with the Sixth District Court of Appeals that Erie County Common Pleas Court should give a new trial to Roy Lee Smith, convicted of the Jan. 19, 1973 slaying of David A. Bales.

The appellate court said the lower court erred in letting confessions about previous armed robberies into the record.

Smith and Bales got into an argument over parking in a shopping center plaza. An argument and the shooting ensued.

Ask delay in Ohioan's murder trial

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Another delay has been requested in the start of the trial for James W. Hall, accused of murdering University of Iowa nursing student Sarah Ann Ottens March 13, 1973.

The trial was scheduled to begin Monday but one of Hall's attorneys, Bruce Walker, Thursday asked that it be delayed until May 9 because Hall's chief defense counsel, Iowa City attorney William Tucker, had been hospitalized since Wednesday.

A ruling was expected Friday. The prosecution has filed a request for a change of venue, but no decision on that motion has been made.

The body of Miss Ottens of Morrison, Ill., was found in a University of Iowa dormitory room.

Hall of Toledo, Ohio, was a former U of I football player and is now a part-time student. He was indicted last fall on an open charge of murder.

He has been released on bond during the long delay in the start of the trial, already rescheduled twice before.

an hour, effective Thursday, and an additional 10 cents an hour retroactive to Jan. 1. The settlement ended a 17-day strike by garbage workers and other city employees, members of Teamsters Union Local 244.

A city official said the layoffs were to help meet the cost of the raises since the $4.4 million was not in the budget.

The chairman of the city council Finance Committee estimated that the city could raise enough money to solve its fiscal problems by increasing the city income tax by six tenths of one per cent.

But Councilman Michael Zone said he did not think Mayor Ralph J. Perk, a U.S. Senate candidate, would ask for a tax hike.

"I don't think city council will initiate a tax campaign on its own. But the mayor would find a good reception in council if he attaches his name to it," Zone said.

Zone said the tax hike would raise $24 million, the amount needed in view of expected raises for city employees next year plus skyrocketing costs of other city services.

Perk won a round in court Thursday when a judge ruled that the minidumps set up in city parks during the garbage workers' strike might be illegal, he would not ban them. Judge John J. Griesinger said the minidumps lessened the health hazard in the city.

Workers began Thursday removing garbage and trash that piled up at a rate of 10,000 tons a week. Service Director Ralph Tyler said it might take a week just to clear out the minidumps.

The Teamsters voted by a 3-1 margin Wednesday night to approve the package worked out under supervision of Common Pleas Court Judge John J. McMahon.

Rhodes aide Fred Rice dies at 68

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Fred Rice, former state registrar of motor vehicles and a close friend of former Gov. James Rhodes, collapsed and died on a Cincinnati street corner Thursday.

Rice, who is now with Rhodes' development firm, James A. Rhodes and Associates, had accompanied the former governor to Cincinnati to help him campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Rice was helping Rhodes with campaign scheduling and had driven him to the Queen City.

Doctors at Cincinnati General Hospital said Rice, 68, died of an apparent heart attack.

A native of Jackson County, Rice had lived in Columbus in recent years. He still maintained a farm and voting address in Jackson County, an associate said.

Rice served as registrar of the state bureau of motor vehicles during Rhodes' two terms as governor. Earlier, he had been a state representative.

Henry Fonda given pacemaker

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Henry Fonda, 68, now has a pacemaker in his chest "as a safety precaution against a heart rhythm disorder," medical authorities say.

Fonda collapsed in his dressing room last week after a performance of his one-man show, "Clarence Darrow," on Broadway.

A spokesman at Lenox Hill Hospital here said Fonda will remain in the hospital over the weekend, but can open his show May 15 in Detroit as scheduled.

Fonda's appearance in Boston this week had been canceled because of his illness. After his collapse, a hospital spokesman said Fonda suffered from total exhaustion.

Kentucky man killed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ronald Wooten, 24, of Newport, Ky., injured in a car crash Feb. 21, died Thursday at General Hospital.

BREATHING EASIER — Leroy Diekman, 32-year-old building contractor, displays bottles of sand-like substance similar to what was removed from his lungs at a hospital in Torrance, Calif. Four pounds of the sand-like matter was removed. Doctors diagnosed the problem as pulmonary alveolar proteinosis, a rare disease that causes the lung to fill with granular protein material.

'Town Meeting' turnout small; more to be held

"We expected more, but we are not discouraged," commented Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce President Fred L. Domenico regarding the first in a possible series of old-fashioned town meetings held Thursday night for residents of the city's Third Ward in Belle Aire Elementary School.

Besides panelists and Chamber of Commerce officials, only five interested citizens responded to the open invitation.

While the turnout was small, the discussion covered topics ranging from street paving programs to the new Community Education Program in Washington C.H. Those in attendance questioned panelists for more than 90 minutes on the various topics.

Domenico and the Chamber of Commerce's public relations committee, headed by Leroy Barton and Robert Lutz, indicated future sessions will be held in other city wards, but dates and locations have not yet been determined.

All present Thursday night, including the panelists, indicated the town meeting type of session can be valuable to Washington C.H. residents as the questions and topics covered are virtually impossible to cover in other ways.

Panelists participating in the town meeting were City Manager Dan Wolford, representing city government; Darrell Clark, owner of the Clark's Cardinal market, representing business; Paul Johnson, of Armco Steel Corp., representing industry; Robert Rochester, editor of The Record-Herald, representing the news media, and Edwin Nestor, superintendent of Washington C.H. city schools, representing education.

Washington C.H. Fire Chief Maynard L. (Joe) Denen, Police Specialist Larry Hott and Hank Shaffer, director of the Community Education program in Washington C.H., were also present and answered questions. Domenico was the panel moderator.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rockwell International Corp. will build an $18 million automotive spring manufacturing plant in Columbus, the firm announced Thursday.

The plant will open later this year and employ about 300 persons.

WCH home brings $70,000

A Washington C.H. property was purchased for $70,000 at a public auction held Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M.W. (Arthur) Libbey, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., purchased the property located at 525 Mayfair Drive from the Harold F. McCord estate.

Ohio U talks stall

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Disagreement over how many student employees must vote on a proposal for union recognition appeared to be the major hangup in negotiations between the Student Workers Union and Ohio University.

Talks were to resume today.

The union wants just a majority of student employees voting to be necessary to win bargaining rights. But university administrators insist that at least 80 per cent of those eligible for representation participate in the voting.

Negotiators cleared a major hurdle Thursday when students agreed to permit hourly employees vote as a single unit. The union had wanted them to vote according to their occupation in six separate categories.

Other points of disagreement deal with other mechanics of conducting the election and supervising it.

University President Claude Sowle agreed to the representative election after about 250 SWU members went on strike last week.

The three-bedroom, all-brick and stone residence is situated on a 100-by-175-foot lot and overlooks Washington Country Club.

J.W. Wallace was the executor of the McCord estate, and William Junk was the attorney. The sale was conducted by Polk Real Estate, 122 S. Main St. Emerson Marting was the auctioneer.

Jim Polk, of Polk Real Estate, said there were two other bidders seeking the property.

Gilligan to attend Kentucky Derby

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan will attend Saturday's Kentucky Derby as the guest of Columbus realtor John W. Galbraith, it was announced Thursday.

Gilligan and the millionaire sportsman have been friends for several years, a spokesman said.

Driving habits and gas supply

All around the country there have been news stories playing variations on a common theme: in the wake of the gasoline shortage, drivers are behaving as though it had never been. Accounts of this phenomenon often contain a warning that if the practice continues there may be another auto fuel pinch before long. This echoes authoritative, if somewhat muted, admonition along the same lines. We are told in effect that probably no new gasoline shortages will develop this summer if motorists use reasonable prudence as to how much, and how fast, they drive. That is a big "if." The contravening fact seems to be that we have a general tendency to resume old driving habits.

On Interstate 71, for instance, the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit imposed to curb gasoline consumption is being largely ignored now. This means that more gas is being used up getting from point A to point B than was the case at the height of the shortage. Then, people were driving slower to save gas. They did so both because gas was hard to get and because they felt they should do their part to make fuel supplies last longer. Now this attitude is at best on the wane, and at worst it has simply vanished. Street traffic also is sharply on the rise in many communities where recent gas shortages put a crimp in it. People seem to be going back to their old habits of driving whenever and wherever they please. Apparently this is because gas is now readily available where, a few weeks ago, getting a fillup meant waiting in line after having cruised to find an open station. The philosophy of conservation no longer appears to play much of a part in driving customs. That philosophy is nevertheless a key element in the situation. No significant increase in available gasoline supplies can be expected in the near future. Whether Americans will find themselves caught short again depends in very large measure on how well they discipline their driving habits.

Cosell couldn't savage Buckley

Howard Cosell, the demon sportscaster, thinks he might challenge New York's Conservative-Republican Sen. Jim Buckley for office in 1976. Since Cosell has the reputation for beating the late Dan Parker all hollow in the business of asking impertinent sports questions, this might seem a promising way of insuring a campaign that would give us something more than the usual round of platitudes. The only trouble with the idea is that Jim Buckley is impertinence-proof. Jim is a polite and friendly fellow, but in his own way he is the Howard Cosell of the Senate. He plunges in where more circumspect characters fear to tread. For example, with Women's Lib riding high, who in politics wants to stick his neck out on the free abortion question? The answer is Jim Buckley. I don't profess to know whether Jim's feeling that abortion is murder gives him a vast subterranean political following (my fellow columnist Paul Scott thinks it does), but Jim is perfectly willing to put his convictions on the line in this most sensitive of all areas. Howard Cosell's one big stock in trade is exposing phonies and four-flushers, but he couldn't burrow in on Jim Buckley here.

Buckley, who is the least cowardly man in public life I know. Other congressmen are a calculating, not to say a shifty, lot. The American Conservative Union keeps a beady eye on a whole flock of them who were announced conservatives before Watergate came along. Democrats, heeding the rightward trend of the polls, were proud to be thought of as part of a conservative coalition. The Southerners in particular voted for conservative legislation. HOWEVER, in the most recent annual key issues voting index put out by the American Conservative Union, the Southern Democrat-Northern Republican front has been fractured. The 20-member Texas Democrat delegation, for example, averaged a 48.3 per cent rating on the conservative-liberal scale, which is a considerable come-down from the 73.1 rating of 1971. So we have ceased to have a veto-proof House of Representatives even before the 1974 election returns are in. The Senate remains as a possible veto-sustaining bastion. But there are only three unquestionable stalwarts who get a 100 per cent conservative rating from the ACU. These are Norris Cotton of New Hampshire (R.), Barry Goldwater of Arizona (R.), and — of course — Jim Buckley. Howard Cosell may have a great reputation in the sportscasting world of telling it the way it is. But his only effective way of getting at Jim Buckley would be to oppose him on a flat-out disagreement basis. To make it a lively race, it would have to be Cosell, the supporter of abortion-on-demand, or Cosell, the big spender, or Cosell, the man in George Meany's pocket. If he were to object to being portrayed as following this sort of line, he would have to admit that Jim Buckley is a man who, in addition to being brave, is also a man who is right.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. SATURDAY, MAY 4

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) A good time to develop a dormant talent, to repeat an old strategy when others fail. Don't yield to frustration in ANY situation. Keep your eyes on a golden future. TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) This will be one of those "give and take" days, with emphasis on the giving. The artistic, the extra trimming, the light touch can brighten all things. GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) As with many others, you will get into difficulty if you speak or act in haste now. Stick to high principles, but avoid dissension, antagonism. CANCER (June 22 to July 23) Some new events in the making, perhaps a new contact. Give rein to your liveliest hopes now. Do not antagonize those who are really well disposed toward you. LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day — if you cooperate. VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You can make headway in most matters, but some concessions may be obligatory. Do not take on new ventures without thorough investigation. This is no day for acting blindly. LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Avoid a present tendency toward lethargy. Gear efforts to achieve objectives more quickly. Improvise occasionally. This day can be a helpful challenge. SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) Though yours is not usually a passive nature, you could place yourself behind the front lines through modesty. A bit of self-press-agency wouldn't hurt a bit. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) A conservative and prudent attitude will keep you from going overboard through misguided enthusiasm — a tendency now. Be especially cautious in romantic matters. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Warning signals are up where behavior and disposition are concerned! Without realizing it, you could be too quick to prescribe or criticize — with unhappy results. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Iron out kinks in your plans and tactics. You should be able to interpret and handle situations ably now. In aiming for goals, however, don't overreach. PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Tip-top results indicated in current projects. You may be on delicate ground in some areas, but no dilemma exists without its solution. Search! YOU BORN TODAY, though gifted along creative lines as are most Taureans, could also succeed notably in the business and financial fields. You would make an excellent merchant, stock broker or banker; would also thrive as a farmer or builder. You have a great love of heritage and tradition and could make an outstanding career of teaching history, archeology, anthropology and kindred subjects.

Solon retiring — economics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Robert E. Levitt, R-70 Canton, now serving his sixth straight term in the Ohio House of Representatives, is calling it quits after this year. The veteran legislator said his main reason for quitting was economics. "The length of the session has increased until no one with an active law practice has the time to do all the legislative work," Levitt said. Beyond that, Levitt said he doesn't like the way majority Democrats are running things. "They're running an awfully sloppy operation," he said. "Very, very low quality. They are making a lot of errors and railroading through legislation that is poorly conceived and in terrible shape." Democratic leaders in the House who could be reached during the legislature's monthlong recess declined to respond to the charges. The 46-year-old Canton lawmaker is among four House members retiring this year. Others are Reps. Joseph F. Hiestand, R-77 Hillsboro, who is 66; John G. Sweeney, D-14 Cleveland, who is 59, and John T. Bechtold, R-26 Cincinnati, who is 49. Roger Tracy Jr., candidate for the Republican nomination as state auditor, naturally thinks the work of Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's office is for the birds. Ferguson is a Democrat, his son seeks the Democratic nomination. In his latest attack, Tracy argued the auditor's approval of food expenses at the governor's mansion came without supporting data. He said that one approved voucher was for four pheasants at $40 from Viola C. Halloran. At the same time, he said, a voucher for $100 to Liles Taxidermy for four pheasants was approved. "We aren't sure whether they were eaten, stuffed or both," Tracy said. Sen. Howard M. Metzger has been having his troubles with income taxes — even with the news conference at which he reported his 1973 returns. Through a mixup most capitol newsmen didn't get word of the conference until it was almost over several blocks from the Statehouse. Some did hear about it, but went to the wrong place, Metzger's official office in the old Post Office building. The meeting was being held in Metzger's Columbus campaign headquarters. Former astronaut John Glenn, Metzger's primary election opponent, scheduled a similar Columbus news conference an hour later. Both candidates showed they did all right making money last year. Metzger reported paying $50,422 taxes on income of $372,194. Glenn said he forked over taxes of $35,811 on a 1973 income of $119,275. The heaviest normal newborn child recorded in modern times was a boy weighing 24 pounds 4 ounces, born on June 3, 1961, to Mrs. Saadet Cor of Ceyhan, southern Turkey.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Fear for safety stops Good Samaritan acts

DEAR ABBY: Can you or anyone in your vast reading audience provide a solution to a problem which saddens me? Because of the frightening increase of crime, in order to protect myself, I must now refuse to lend a helping hand to a brother or sister in apparent need of help. If I am driving along the road and see a car stalled by the roadside, and a woman tries to flag me down, must I ignore her plight and keep going because I fear it might be a trap to rob me? Or if a stranger, apparently hysterical, rings my doorbell and asks to use my phone to call the police and ambulance to report an accident must I say: "Sorry, no," because he might be trying to set me up for a holdup or kidnapping?

I have always felt that I was my brother's keeper. Not anymore. I and millions of others await your reply. TAKING NO CHANCES
DEAR TAKING: If someone tries to flag you down on the road, keep going. But stop at the first telephone and report it to the police of highway patrol. Under no circumstances should you open your door to a strange man, woman or child. Don't ignore them. Offer to make a call and summon help. DEAR ABBY: My father wants to get a motorcycle. My mother and I feel he wants the fun of being a teen-ager again, but he claims a motorcycle is the answer to the gas shortage. I am more afraid of his getting hurt than anything else. He's 47 and has to drive 40 miles on the freeway every day to get to work and back. My brothers are on his side, and my mom and I are against it.

This is causing a lot of arguments in our house. How do you feel about a man Dad's age buying a motorcycle when he's never ridden one before in his life? CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: Same as you, but your father is an adult and must be aware of the dangers as well as the advantages. You've spoken your mind now be quiet. And for heaven's sake, if he should get into an accident, resist the urge to say: "I told you so." DEAR ABBY: How can I open up my son's eyes to something before it's too late?

Sonny is 28, and he's marrying Sally, a 26-year-old widow with a child. Sally was married at 20, and had a baby at 21, and her husband was killed in an accident when she was 22. Because Sally was orphaned young, she never knew her mother, so she became very close to her mother-in-law. After Sally's husband was killed, she and the baby moved in with the in-laws and they've lived there ever since. I have told my son that since it isn't proper for a widow to have a gala wedding, he should insist on a small quiet ceremony with none of Sally's in-laws present, but he said whatever Sally wanted was alright with him. Well, Sally is having all her first husband's family, and I'm afraid with all the memories of their dead son they will turn the wedding into a funeral. I don't want to be a meddling mother-in-law, but I want my son to realize that unless Sally breaks those strong ties with her past, their marriage doesn't stand a chance. So how should I do it? TOUCHY SUBJECT

the illustrated BIBLE Joshua Succeeds Moses

And he laid his hands upon him and gave him a charge, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses. —Numbers 27: 23

When God ordered Moses to Mount Abarim from whence he could view the Promised Land—a land which he could never enter himself because he had once rebelled against the Lord—Moses humbly accepted the dictum and began to prepare for the death which God told him was imminent. Having no kin, Moses worried about a successor who could lead the Israelites safely for the rest of the journey. He confided his fears to the Lord, Who immediately put his mind at rest. He ordered Moses to send for Joshua, son of Nun, one of Moses' most trusted and courageous ministers, to lay his hands upon him and give him the charge in the Lord's name. Moses did so and, after the death of Moses, the Lord confirmed the charge. (Joshua 1: 1-9)

Bishop blasts Brazilian leader

AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — South America's daring church battler for human rights, Roman Catholic Archbishop Helder Camera of Brazil, spoke recently of police-state suppressions in his homeland and added:

"If the religions of the world do not bring moral pressure to bear upon those responsible for such crimes, humanity will no longer trust them to speak in the name of God."

The archbishop, presented in Norway with a "People's Peace Prize" of $264,000 for his struggles in behalf of justice and nonviolence, used to be virtually alone among church leaders in his outspoken clash with military regimes.

But that is no longer the case. Mounting opposition of Catholics and Protestants to oppressive government tactics in South America, particularly in Brazil and Chile, is showing up both there and in the United States.

In the first action of its kind, the administrative board of U.S. Catholic bishops has charged repression of human rights in Chile and Brazil and urged the U.S. government to condition its economic aid on changes in those policies.

The U.S. bishops said they acted "in solidarity" with churches both in Chile and Brazil, meaning that the protest had the backing of bishops in the two South American countries.

"It was a historic action," says the Rev. Frederick McGuire of Washington, D.C., head of the U.S. Catholic Conference Latin American division, noting that the U.S. hierarchy usually maintains a diplomatic silence about foreign regimes.

New Holland youth rally

Final plans have been made by members of the Senior High United Methodist Youth Fellowship of the New Holland United Methodist Church for a Youth Rally for all area churches to be held Saturday evening at 8:00 p.m. in the New Holland United Methodist Church.

Invitations have been sent to all area churches in surrounding counties and all youth from junior high through college age are urged to attend.

The highlight of the evening will be the special guests from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., who will feature a witness team of college students.

All youth groups have been invited to bring and display their church banner. Special music groups are also invited to participate.

Religion links Mid-East

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — The spiritual leader of the world's three million Sephardic Jews, Israel's chief Rabbi Ovadis Yossef, says Jews and Arabs once worked together in friendship and have the shared background for doing so again.

"There is a definite potential for both cultures to come together and flower together, once the political questions are settled," he said in an interview.

Rabbi Yossef, 54, one of two Israeli chief rabbis and the foremost leader of Jews with ancestries in countries bordering on the Mediterranean, said those Jews particularly have common cultural roots with Arabs.

"There's a greater rapport between them," he said. He added that unfortunately few Sephardic Jews are among Israel's top government officers, although they would be better able to communicate with Arabs on a basis of mutual background.

Recalling his own four years as head of a rabbinical court in Egypt before the first Arab-Israeli fighting, he said that in that period the Jewish community there took full part in Egyptian civic functions.

"That's how it could be and how it ought to be," he said.

Noting that both Arabs and Jews are of Semitic stock, their lineage traced back to two Biblical brothers — the Arabs to Ishmael and the Jews to Isaac — Rabbi Yossef said:

"That makes us cousins, and we've got a common grandfather, Abraham."

The branch of Judaism which Rabbi Yossef leads, Sephardim, is a Hebrew word literally meaning "Jews from Spain," but it also includes those from other Mediterranean areas, including predominantly Moslem lands of Syria, Turkey, Lebanon, Egypt, Iraq, Iran and Algeria.

The Jewish communities in those areas have shrunk sharply, most of them moving to Israel. Rabbi Yossef himself was born in Bagdad, Iraq, and his wife in Syria. Both know Arabic.

ADVANCING — Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, of the Ohio West Conference of the United Methodist Church, has announced the appointment of E. Eugene Frazer to district superintendent of Cincinnati, beginning in June. The Rev. Mr. Frazer began his ministry in the Good Hope Charge in 1948, serving the Good Hope, Sugar Grove, Maple Grove and New Martinsburg Methodist churches for seven years. He has since served in Grove City and is presently in his sixth year in Middletown where he is senior minister of the First United Methodist Church.

Browning Club observes 79th year at banquet

Beautiful thoughts from Robert Browning's poetry and the piano playing of Mrs. Mary Richter Snyder in six classical compositions, set the mood for the 79th annual banquet of the Browning Club held in Fellowship Hall, Grace United Methodist Church, Tuesday evening.

A dinner was served by the United Methodist Women with Mrs. Billie Wilson as chairman. Mrs. Willard Bitzer presided at beautifully appointed tables decorated with a springtime theme by Mrs. William Hastings and Mrs. Orville Jenkins. The favors at each place setting were small wicker baskets filled with colorful spring flowers. Mrs. Bitzer welcomed the members and guests.

Mrs. Ralph Scott gave the invocation. To introduce the program, Mrs. Everad Broberg read the poem-of-the-month "Boy and the Angle" by Robert Browning.

Mrs. Snyder was introduced by Mrs. Frank Mayo, program chairman, as pianist with extraordinary talent and accomplishments, who made her debut at Town Hall in New York City in 1965. She majored in piano at the Eastman School of Music under the tutelage of Cecile Gemhart and several private instructors. Her study also included ensemble coaching under the late Louis Persinger, eminent violinist. In addition to solo concerts, TV and radio performances in the midwest, Mrs. Snyder pursues an active career in chamber music circles.

Her program was Fantasia in C minor by J.S. Bach, Rhapsody in B Minor by J. Brahms, Sonetto 104 del Petrarca by Franz Liszt, Etude in a Flat Major by F. Chopin (The Harp), Aufschwung (Soaring) by R. Schumann and Encore - Waltz in E. Flat by F. Chopin.

Mrs. Emerson Chapman gave a brief history of the Browning club which was organized in Washington C.H. in 1895 by Dr. N.S. Chaney, then superintendent of the City School, and a devotee of Robert Browning's poetry. In her tribute to Browning, she quoted from his poem "Pippa Passes" which critics have said there is no poem in English literature that has more appeal to human emotions. The poem is a challenge to the present generation, young and old. She concluded with "God's in His Heaven, All's right with the World."

Mrs. Chapman then announced that a special birthday was being celebrated that day-that of the Browning Club's president for 1974-75 - Mrs. P.M. Cook. She extended the club's appreciation to Mrs. Cook for her loyalty to her family, church, and friends, and presented her with an orchid, a gift from the club.

The creative writing students charmed the audience by their talents, creative writing ability and poise before an audience. This is the 10th year for the Browning Club to sponsor the creative writing contest. Mrs. John Gall, of the Miami Trace High School English department, introduced Sheila Gordon, an AFS exchange student from Natal, South Africa, and attending MTHS this year, who read her original poem, "Stars" which was excellent. She is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Elizabeth Crichton Gordon and the late Mr. Gordon.

Mary Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ford, read her original poem, "One Dream Come True" which had a great appeal, also. She is a senior at MTHS.

Mr. Austin Crusie, chairman of the English department of Washington Senior High School, told the club members of his visit with the creative writing class to the Ohioana Library Battelle Creative Writing workshop in Columbus, where the students were encouraged to continue to write creatively by specialists in that field.

Mr. Crusie introduced Sue Moore, a sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Moore, who has been writing since she was in the fifth grade. She read "Hitchhiker" an original poem which earned her third place in SCOL poetry. She has many assignments in school and church, where she uses her creative ability.

Greg Huysman, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huysman, and has been writing two years. He won National Anthology of Student Poetry, and read three of his selections, "Untitled Anthology Winner," "Remember Me" and "Night." Besides his creative writing, he likes football and track, and sings in the WSHS choir, and is president of the Art Club.

Mary Jo Burris, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene

Burris. She has been interested in writing poetry since in the third grade. She is a clerk in the Children's Room at Carnegie Public Library and helps with "Grace Notes" at the Grace United Methodist Church. She plans to study journalism in college, and she read "Free Speech" an essay that was given on an educational program on WBNS-TV aired a few weeks ago. She also read an original poem "To My Father, A Song" which the club members liked very much.

WISH group elects officers

The Women In Service Helping group met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Mike Pentzer. The new officers were unanimously elected. They are: President, Mrs. Glenn Jacobson; vice president, Mrs. Lynn Shoemaker; secretary, Mrs. David Loudner; and treasurer, Mrs. Tom Gauldin.

The May 15 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Roger Kirkpatrick, at which time members will reveal secret sisters and have a jewelry party.

Mrs. Pentzer served refreshments to Mrs. Jacobson, Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. Loudner, Mrs. Gauldin, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Steve Smalley, Mrs. Norm Dennis, Mrs. Tom Edwards, Mrs. Jay Smith and Mrs. Al Hatfield.

A lamb dish that is delicious

By TOM HOGE

AP Newsfeatures Writer

With the advent of spring, butcher stores are featuring lamb which can range in price from fairly moderate to astronomical, depending on the cut. If the cost of a loin chop or steak makes you cringe, try some of the cheaper sections, like the breast, neck and shoulder. With a little effort they can be transformed into delicious dishes that often surpass those made from the choicer cuts.

Have your butcher grind some neck slices or shank, and you can enjoy hamburgers, loaves or patties, spiced up with creole sauce, barbecue sauce or fruit dressing. Or ask him to fix you up a Scotch roast which is merely breast stuffed with ground lamb. Or mix some shoulder chunks with potatoes, carrots and onions for a superb Irish stew.

And then there is the question of leftovers. I agree that roast lamb put in the oven a second time becomes dry and pretty tasteless. But cube up some of that leftover for an exotic curry or casserole. Diced lamb can also be served a la king on toast or in patty shells with the right seasoning. And bits of leftover lamb with cooked macaroni, pickle relish and sharp dressing make a delicious salad that can serve as the main course at lunch.

The consumption of lamb dates back to ancient times. When the Jews fled from Egypt, the Lord instructed them to each take a lamb and "eat the flesh in the night, roast with fire and unleavened bread; and with bitter herbs."

In 17th-century Europe, they used to stuff lamb with ox suet, larks and olives. In the Middle East they roast the meat with herbs and pistachio nuts. To this day, during the U.N. General Assembly session in New York each

Women's Golf Association holds annual spring dinner

The annual tee-off dinner of the Women's Golf Association took place recently at the Washington Country Club. The spring banquet was the 'kick off' for the season, which began May 1. There were 60 members and two guests present. Mrs. Robert Heiny is chairman for the year and Mrs. Loren Noble is co-chairman.

The tables were decorated by Mrs. Harry Thrailkill.

During the business session, the pro

am benefit each year, to be held in Columbus, was discussed.

Representing the local group will be Mrs. Ray Jennings and Mrs. Richard Wintringham. The alternates are Mrs. Charles Schneider and Mrs. James Grinstead.

Following the dinner, Tony Capuana, Club golf pro, was introduced and he answered questions regarding local rules for the year.

Time for rhubarb conserve

RHUBARB APRICOT CONSERVE — Worth making to use as extra-special gifts.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Now that those springtime strawberry-red stalks of rhubarb topped with pale green leaves are in markets, you may want to turn your hand to making rhubarb-apricot conserve.

RHUBARB APRICOT CONSERVE

7 cups sliced (1/2-inch thick) rhubarb, about 2 pounds

7 cups diced dried apricots, about 2

fall, Middle East delegates lean heavily on couscous and other lamb dishes when they entertain.

One dish with festive overtones that won't bankrupt you is Lamb Stroganoff.

1 1/2 lbs. boneless lamb shoulder sliced thin

Seasoned flour
1-3rd cup butter
1 clove garlic chopped fine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 lb. mushrooms sliced
Salt and pepper to taste
1 1/2 cups sour cream
3 tablespoons dry sherry

Coat lamb with flour. Melt butter, add lamb, garlic and onions and cook till lamb is lightly browned on all sides. Add mushrooms, salt and pepper. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add cream and sherry and mix well. Serve with cooked rice. Good with a chilled Beaujolais. Serves 6.

Class enjoys progressive dinner

The Young Bereans of South Side Church of Christ had a progressive dinner, when the food was enjoyed at various members' homes. Games were the entertainment and the hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. William Temple. There were 18 members and their families who participated. Following the dessert, Mr. Temple presented devotions.

Prior to the meeting, 'gym night' was enjoyed with the Young Married Class members of the New Holland Church of Christ as guests.

The class prepared and served the breakfast for Sunrise Service.

The next meeting will be May 18.

Businesses feel money pinch

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — High interest rates and a dispirited stock market are having multiple effects on American business, few of them totally desirable. The spirit of entrepreneurship is, for the time being, stifled. Beginning and small companies cannot hope to raise money in the lifeless new-issues market, where five years ago speculators begged for a share of any new stock.

Who will buy the stock of an untested outfit when the likes of Chrysler, Ford and General Motors find it difficult to market their shares? Some large companies complain, in fact, of a capital shortage.

Small business also finds itself frustrated in the credit markets, where loans cost considerably more than the prime rate, which is now up to 10 1/2 per cent. Charges of 15 per cent are more common for small business.

Corporate mergers, which proliferate when the market is active, are at a very low ebb. A company with a price-earnings multiple of five isn't inclined to use its stock to buy another company.

If, as was fairly common a few years ago, its multiple was 35 — meaning investors were willing to pay 35 times earnings for a share — a company could obtain a real bargain by using those shares to buy a smaller concern. But the average P-E ratio of all stocks in the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was 9.7 at the close of last week. A year ago the ratio was 13.7 times earnings, and just a few years ago around 18.

Moreover, those cash-rich companies that were so attractive to merger-minded conglomerates in 1968 are far less common today. Few well-run concerns are inclined to borrow money at high rates when they can use their own.

Cash flows are being pinched, just as they are in households, none more dramatically than at Consolidated Edison, the big New York utility that omitted a quarterly dividend for the first time in 89 years.

When something of that sort happens, it flies above the money market like a red storm flag. Fear spreads that other utilities might do the same. And so utility prices have fallen sharply in the past week.

The effort by the Federal Reserve Board to cut down inflation does appear to be having an impact. Some businesses are being forced to curtail activities, thus relieving some inflationary pressure.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more broadcast news specials are coming up this weekend on the controversial edited transcripts of President Nixon's taped conversations with key Watergate figures.

One of the shows, on NBC-TV late Saturday night, will run 90 minutes, the longest by far of network news specials on the transcripts. CBS aired an hour news special Wednesday night, while ABC's version Thursday night ran 30 minutes.

But the NBC undertaking is a small bite of air time compared with a marathon 32-hour session on the transcripts that the Washington-based National Public Radio system is offering.

NPR, which serves 164 public radio stations, says virtually all 1,308 pages of the transcript President Nixon submitted the House Judiciary Committee will be read aloud on the air.

Before concerned listeners start recommending throat specialists, it should be known that readers at six participating NPR stations will take turns at the oral history.

The 32 hours won't be consecutive, either. NPR says it's being served up in 16-hour chunks Saturday and Sunday, with periodic updates on what transcript portion is being read, as well as reports on new developments in the transcript controversy.

NPR says the "reader" stations are WUHY, Philadelphia; WO-FM, Ames, Iowa; WUOMFM, Ann Arbor, Mich.; KBI-FM, Columbia, Mo.; WGBH-FM, Boston; and WBO-FM, Buffalo, N.Y.

NPR's read-a-thon commences at 8 a.m. EDT Saturday and continues until midnight, with the same schedule for Sunday, NPR says.

An NPR spokeswoman says it isn't known yet how many of the system's 164 stations will carry the readings, so the only way listeners might find out is to call their area's public station or just flip those AM and FM dials like crazy Saturday morning.

NBC-TV's transcript session, anchored by John Chancellor, is set to begin at 11:30 p.m. EDT Saturday. The show features an unusual touch for a network news program.

NBC says six "professional readers" who aren't actors will be on hand the first 45 minutes or so to recite key excerpts of the transcript.

Each reader will be assigned the words spoken by the principals in the transcript — President Nixon, John Dean, H. R. Haldeman and so forth — but it won't be a dramatic reading.

NBC says they're ordered to avoid that sort of thing. It says they'll read in a "nonexpressive manner so as not to convey a particular meaning where the meaning is ambiguous."

A network correspondent will precede the reading of each portion by setting the scene and outlining circumstances. The remainder of the program mainly will consist of summaries, analyses and interviews with congressional leaders, NBC says.

Court News

MARRIAGE APPLICATIONS

William Clifford Williamson, 48, of 506 Peddlerd Ave., self-employed, and Delores Ann Lawhorn, 28, of 1239 Rawlings St., at home.

DELINQUENT HEARINGS

Four Buena Vista youths were adjudged to be delinquent children and placed on probation with Marshall Boggs following hearings before Judge Rollo M. Marchant in Probate-Juvenile Court.

The youths, two 13-year-olds and others ages 15 and 11, were arrested by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department early last month and charged with breaking and entering and criminal trespass. An investigation by sheriff's deputies involving a breaking and entering incident at Blue Rock stone quarry, U.S. 62-S, led to the arrests of the juveniles. Deputies said about 50 pounds of copper wire and other merchandise, valued at $150, were taken in the burglary.

JUDGMENT ASKED

in Common Pleas Court against Fireman's Fund America Insurance Co., Cincinnati, and Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., Cincinnati.

The plaintiff alleges in the petition that the defendants wrote and had in effect fidelity bonds, insuring the company against loss by theft of property. The plaintiff also says that on Nov. 16, 1972, the company suffered a loss through the theft of property by William Suiter, a materials handler with the Redman Industries, Inc., plant in Washington C.H. The plaintiff has filed proof of loss and made claims to each of the respective companies for payment.

The suit demands a judgment in the amount of $11,789.78.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED

Two new divorce suits have been filed in Common Pleas Court.

Linda L. Riley, Rt. 1, Washington C.H., has filed suit against Thomas K. Riley, Dayton, on grounds of cruelty. The parties were married Dec. 11, 1968, in Washington C.H. and have one child, according to the petition. The plaintiff asks temporary and permanent alimony, child custody and support and that the court approve a separation agreement entered into by the parties.

James S. Brock, Washington-Waterloo Road, has filed suit against Mary Katherine Brock, Alpina, Mich., on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties were married June 9, 1972 in Washington C.H. and have no children, according to the petition. The plaintiff asks that a property settlement be determined by the court.

Sohio blames cost of oil for gas hikes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Higher crude oil costs which couldn't be passed along until this month were behind a six cents a gallon rise in the price of gasoline at Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) stations, a company official said Thursday.

"Since during April our prices were as much as eight or nine cents a gallon lower than some others, an objective analysis may show that Sohio products are still priced competitively," added Robert G. Griffin, vice president for marketing.

Sohio was able to secure more crude oil in April, but Federal Energy Office regulations kept the company from passing along the increased cost, Griffin said.

Griffin's explanation accompanied announcement that the firm planned to run its refineries at 90 per cent capacity, promising increased supplies of gasoline, heating oils and diesel fuels for dealers in May.

Production was to continue at the higher level in June and allocations were to be higher than in the preceding three months.

Griffin said gasoline would be allocated to service stations at 96 per cent of their base period volume, while heating oil and diesel fuel would be allocated at 100 per cent.

The company announced the gasoline price rise Wednesday and said home heating oil would cost an additional seven cents a gallon, too.

Sohio Board Chairman Charles Spahr told stockholders recently that the company expected to be able to buy more crude but that the company's purchases would jump from 60 per cent to 70 per cent from foreign sources. That would mean increasing gasoline prices, he said.

Marathon hikes gasoline prices

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—The price of gasoline at Marathon Oil Co. stations jumped 4.3 cents a gallon today.

The increase puts the price at 61.3 cents for regular and 65.3 for premium at owner-operated stations. Prices at company-operated stations are about three cents less.

Marathon said the hike was necessary because of higher prices on foreign crude oil purchased by the firm. It said the increase was consistent with federal guidelines allowing cost pass-throughs to the consumer.

Dividend declared

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Marathon Oil Co. directors Thursday declared a dividend of 40 cents per share, payable June 10 to shareholders of record May 13.

Global alert out for stolen art

LONDON (AP) — What do you do with 19 masterpieces worth about $20.4 million, that you stole in the world's greatest art robbery?

One thing's for sure — you can't sell them for anything like their market value. At least not openly.

Right now, those 19 paintings are possibly the hottest chunk of stolen property in the world. Art dealers and police around the globe have been alerted to watch out for them.

It poses a problem for police in Ireland investigating the raid last weekend by an armed gang on the collection of gold and diamond millionaire Sir Alfred Beit.

So far, the gang that pillaged Beit's mansion near Dublin April 26 has made no ransom demands of any kind.

But some art experts and some police officers believe the robbery was politically motivated. Beit himself thinks the gang was out to make a killing by ransoming off the paintings for hard cash. And he's also said firmly he won't pay a cent if that is correct.

Stealing art treasures has been a lucrative business for centuries. But in these days of terrorism and revolutionary politics it has assumed a more sinister aspect.

Hugh Leggett, a respected London art dealer and international art historian, said: "There are new motives behind these art thefts. In the old days, thefts were often insurance frauds. Now there are sociopolitical reasons and some form of blackmail is likely."

There has been speculation the gang that raided Beit's County Wicklow mansion at Blessington, near Dublin, may be linked with the Irish Republican Army, an underground guerrilla movement fighting to unite the British-ruled province of Northern Ireland with the Irish republic to the south.

The gang of five, led by a French-speaking brunette, screamed revolutionary slogans, such as "capitalist pigs" at Beit, and accused him of exploiting the working class.

This, the experts believe, indicated the raiders were probably motivated by something more than just personal gain.

Most law enforcement agencies agree the thieves these days are far more organized internationally and more knowledgeable about art than ever before.

And they are convinced that a lot of major works that vanish after they are stolen are sold to wealthy collectors who in the words of one dealer "lust" after paintings their riches can never buy legitimately.

However, some detectives suspect, no thief would be able to dispose of 19 famous masterpieces, even to shady collectors.

Plans completed for WSHS 'Grad Night'

Plans have been completed by parents committees for the annual senior class party for graduating Washington Senior High School seniors. Seniors and their dates will be attending "Grad Nite" activities from 11 p.m. until 5 a.m. Friday, May 31, at Kings Island amusement center near Cincinnati.

Kings Island will be closed to the general public during those hours and graduates and their dates will be prohibited from leaving the amusement park before 5 a.m. without the written consent of an adult committee member. Graduates may, of course, attend the event stag, and guests outside the graduating class must be the date or escort of the graduating senior.

Park admission tickets will entitle the graduates to unlimited use of park facilities, except food, refreshments, souvenirs, games and the shooting gallery. Special entertainment will be provided by two popular rock music groups, Brownsville Station and Redbone.

KINGS ISLAND has established a dress style that must be followed in order to obtain admission. Boys must wear sport shirts with collars, long or short sleeves, dress slacks and dress shoes. Suit or sport coats are permitted. No shorts or blue jeans or tennis shoes will be allowed.

Girls must wear pantsuits, dress slacks and blouse, dresses and dress shoes. Low or high heels are optional. No shorts, midriffs, halters or blue jeans will be permitted.

The party will form at the high school at 9:30 p.m. and the students will promptly board chartered buses for the trip. Chaperones will be provided for each bus and will be available during the Kings Island activities for any special situations or requests which may develop. Upon return to the high school, at approximately 6:30 a.m. Saturday, breakfast will be served in the high school cafeteria to all graduates and their guests.

The total charge this year for the senior class party activities will be $13 per student or guest. Parents are asked to submit the amount before Monday, May 6. If the graduate is bringing a guest, an additional $13 must be included. Checks can be made payable to Senior Class Party.

Gerald Begin is serving as general chairman for the activity; Mr. and Mrs. William Mount are finance chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace are heading the attendance committee; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Heiny are the chairmen of the transportation committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox are breakfast chairmen. Mrs. Begin is serving as chaperone chairman.

Soy mixed with whey slated as food-for-peace item

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preschool children in foreign schools benefitting from the Food for Peace program soon will be getting their chance to identify with a slightly modernized, "Little Miss Muffett."

Rather than eating their "curds and whey," however, they will be drinking the whey-mixed with soy from soybeans in a dried beverage mix that costs less than half what nonfat dried milk does.

When it's mixed with water, the drink is 15 per cent solids, compared to 12½ per cent for milk. More important, the nutritionists said, it has the nutritional value of whole milk, unlike reconstituted nonfat dry.

In late March a large bid was accepted for a shipment, being delivered through the end of this month, of the whey-soy mix. Last week, another call went out, for 1.5 million pounds of it for delivery in June and July.

Meanwhile, the latest dairy-production figures available at USDA show production of nonfat dry milk, former staple of the program, was down 21 per cent in March from March 1973. The production of dry whey for human food was up 11 per cent.

Nonfat dry milk, supplies of which have been so tight that none has been included in Food for Peace donation purchases since before last June, represented $19.08 million of fiscal year 1973 shipments in the increasingly curtailed program.

A study released this month by 20 students injured when stands collapse

MT. GILEAD, Ohio (AP) — Twenty Northmor High School students were injured Thursday when scaffolding some of them were standing on collapsed.

The students, high school choir members, were posing for a yearbook picture on the scaffolding and nearby bleachers when the accident occurred, a spokesman reported.

Three students were kept in area hospitals overnight for observation. One student suffered a broken ankle, but was sent home, after treatment.

The scaffolding had been used for a school musical last weekend, said Ned Forman, Northmor Local School District superintendent.

Tower will address petroleum delegates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. will address more than 800 delegates May 8 during the 51st annual Ohio Petroleum Marketers Association convention here. The convention is scheduled May 7-9.

Herbert H. Moede of USDA's national economic analysis division showed that the estimated cost of the whey-soy mix being tested for use as a supplementary food in beverage form in overseas preschool feeding programs was 20.3 cents a pound last August and 19.44 cents a pound in January.

Ohio political scene

Wash., a bill to require the major oil companies to secure federal charters.

Glenn blasted Metzenbaum during a news conference in Cleveland Thursday for his reported statement that being in the military was not holding a job, and denounced the senator's alleged statement that "we demobilize our troops in Europe and rely on the nuclear deterrent."

Metzenbaum issued a statement almost immediately accusing Glenn of "distorting my positions on issues."

Glenn's office said Metzenbaum made the statement about military service at an April 18 fund-raising dinner in Cleveland and suggested the demobilization on a Columbus television program last Sunday.

He challenged Metzenbaum to "look a disabled veteran in the eye and tell him he did not have a job."

And he charged the senator with "an appalling lack of understanding of foreign policy" and said reliance on a nuclear deterrent would be dangerous, and more expensive than maintaining the troop force.

Metzenbaum denied he ever advocated total reliance on nuclear deterrents.

"I have repeatedly called for gradual, phased withdrawal of American troops stationed in Europe over a number of years," he said.

"This gradual approach would begin the process of changeover from foreign military spending to expenditures for sorely needed domestic programs, without adverse effect on national security."

In other campaign activity, state Rep. Charles E. Fry of Springfield, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, accused former Gov. James A. Rhodes of having a "public be damned" attitude.

Saying Rhodes has refused to make public his income tax statements and has rejected his offers for a debate, Fry declared:

"I believe the people want and deserve a much higher level of openness and accountability from their public officials. The day of the back-slapping politician with his propensity for cronyism is passe."

Rhodes, meanwhile, continued to ignore his primary election opponents and concentrated on Democratic Gov. John Gilligan's administration.

Campaigning in Cincinnati, Rhodes said 8,500 employees hired under Gilligan account for an expenditure of $85 million to $100 million annually.

"If the level of waste and mismanagement in the present administration continues," Rhodes said, "the present governor will have to raise the income tax just to keep even."

Gilligan's news secretary, Robert Tenenbaum, said "the average tax liability for a family earning $10,000 with three children is $53."

He said Rhodes "has to be held accountable for saying those things and spouting off figures that are totally unrealistic."

Bert Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool, also seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination, told newsmen in Columbus he had rejected a suggestion from an unnamed representative of Fry to drop out of the race.

Dawson said his platform planks are: creating a state-level review of public education financing, earmarking state lottery proceeds for mass transportation, increasing gasoline taxes to help restore Ohio's dormant highway construction program and reconstituting the makeup of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

Gilligan's opponent for the Democratic nomination, James D. Nolan of Cleveland, told a Shaker Heights gathering he had saved taxpayers several thousand dollars by challenging Gilligan's use of a state airplane for political campaigning.

"It wasn't until I called a halt to this waste of state money that Mr. Gilligan said his campaign committee would reimburse the state for the plane's use," Nolan said.

He contended Ohio Democrats are faced with defeat if Gilligan is the standard bearer in November.

Nolan said he was asking for equal time from radio stations that have used any "announcements . . . concerning state operations since Feb. 6, 1974."

He claimed the broadcasting of films produced at state expense constituted a political contribution in violation of Ohio tax laws.

Students win poster awards

Five Washington Junior High School students have been notified that they received honorable mention awards in a poster contest which was held during Exceptional Children's Week in early April.

The five students, Pam Bobo, Becky Ragland, Linda Warner, Donna Poole and Nancy Welch, will receive their awards during the second annual Hopewell Chapter, Council for Exceptional Children, meeting at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Hillsboro High School.

The Hopewell chapter covers five counties. They are Fayette, Highland, Clinton, Brown and Adams counties. Congressman William H. Harsha will present the awards at the meeting.

SPRING CONCERT — Charles Shaffer, music director at Washington Senior High School, prepares his choral groups for their Spring Concert Friday night. The concert includes songs performed by both the junior and senior high choirs and will begin at 8 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium.

Firemen make pair of runs

Smoking in bed and an electric cord which shorted-out were the causes of two fires Thursday.

Mary Grove, 705 E. Paint St., ignited a mattress while smoking in bed at 12:50 p.m. Thursday, firemen said. They were dispatched to the scene, found the fire out upon their arrival and estimated the damage at $20.

An electric cord on an ice machine shorted out at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, at the Belle Aire Beverage Center, 750 W. Elm St., causing a small fire. Once again the fire was out upon the arrival of firemen. Damage was to the electric cord only and was estimated at $10.

THE CANDIDATE WHO WILL GIVE THE VOTERS A STRONG AND RESPECTED VOICE IN LEGISLATURE VOTE FOR LAURENCE A. DUMFORD FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE 77th DISTRICT MADISON AND PARTS OF FAYETTE, CLINTON, GREENE AND HIGHLAND COUNTIES. DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY MAY 7th UNOPPOSED

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Real estate brokers know that nothing sells a house more than an attractive kitchen.

If the kitchen is pleasing to the eye, prospective buyers are likely to overlook frailties in other parts of the house. If it isn't, the seller will have a more difficult time getting a family to appreciate the structure's more admirable qualities.

While appearance alone is usually a good key to the value of a kitchen, efficiency is a more important consideration. It's the work-saving kitchen that will be cherished in the years to come.

Unless you are having a house built to order, you must make your decision on what is already there. But more and more families are having their kitchens remodeled these days. When extensive changes must be made, kitchen remodeling is fairly expensive.

The trick, therefore, is to plan a kitchen that will meet both your needs and your budget. That calls for the inclusion of ideas that meet the special demands of your family and not just those which are incorporated into the kitchen of others.

YOUR CONTRACTOR can be of great help to you in making a decision on the type of kitchen necessary for your family, but you must be prepared to tell him in detail what your priorities are. There are a number of good books on the market that present guidelines, as well as building considerations and alternatives for you to apply during your planning.

One of the best of these, a newly revised edition of "Planning and Remodeling Kitchens" (Sunset Books), goes into all the details necessary to make your choices no matter what your life style, budget or available space.

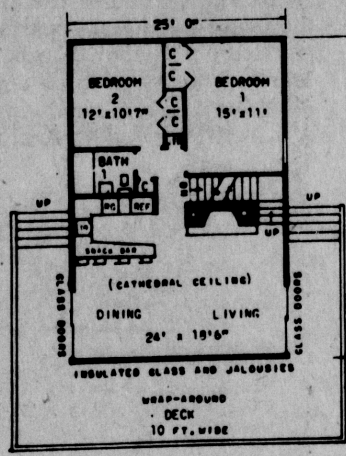

There are five main types of kitchen layouts — a strip or one-wall kitchen; a pullman or two-wall kitchen; an L-shape kitchen; a U-shape kitchen, and a kitchen with an island. The one-wall is used in small-space situations, such as vacation cabins or apartments.

The pullman divides appliances and work areas between two parallel walls, creating a work triangle and more counter space, but with the disadvantage, in some cases, of having a corridor that encourages foot traffic.

The L-shape kitchen divides appliances and counter space between two walls that meet at right angles.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

VERSATILE SPACES found in the A-frame plan account for much of its popularity. Three levels are available for year-round or second-home living, with living-entertainment areas open to the outdoors through extensive glass. Plan HA816C has 875 square feet on its main level and is designed by Lester Cohen, Room 505, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N.Y. 10036. Anyone wishing to know the cost of the blueprint can write to the architect, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I bought a house with a swimming pool which has a cover on it. After I take off the cover, what steps (other than a chlorine treatment, which I know about) should be taken to prepare the pool for use?

A. — After taking off the cover, clean up any debris. Turn on the skimmer, which you should have or get, but also dip out any bigger pieces by hand. Vacuum walls as necessary. With a vinyl-liner pool, this will be needed heavily only at the water line.

Concrete pools should be drained, all surfaces thoroughly scoured and washed and repainted as necessary. You might consider a new gadget that combines skimming the pool, drawing in the water and passing it through a filter, then distributing it, fed full of chemicals, through a mixing stream to the pool again.

Q. — I have heard that the best way to prevent dampness in a basement is to provide plenty of ventilation. But if the windows are open in damp weather, doesn't that bring in the high humidity that causes mildew?

A. — Yes. Ventilation should be governed by weather conditions. Windows should be kept closed during damp weather and rainy spells. You have to use your judgment in fair weather when it is bitter cold outside. Sometimes, opening them only 15 minutes twice a day will be sufficient. When a basement is excessively damp during hot, humid weather, the solution is the use of an exhaust fan, a dehumidifier or one of those air-conditioning units designed to dehumidify as well as cool.

Six per cent of all housing in Ohio is overcrowded, according to the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development.

Dayton burial for actress

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Actress Agnes Moorehead, who died Tuesday in Rochester, Minn., will be buried in the Dayton Memorial Park Cemetery and Mausoleum, a spokesman said Thursday.

Miss Moorehead, whose father, the Rev. John H. Moorehead served as a Presbyterian minister in the Dayton area, purchased the plot several years ago, according to cemetery officials.

There will be no funeral, and graveside services will be private, at the actress' request.

Miss Moorehead, 67, spent much of her time on her 320-acre farm near Zanesville. The land had been in her family for more than a century.

She was best known for her role in the television series "Bewitched," and was seen Wednesday night in "Rex Harrison: Stories of Love," a show filmed two years ago.

Ridge Homes has the home and the mortgage you need...with a down payment of just $100!

Eleven Dream Homes Under $17,990

THE SHERWOOD — $17,815* — Ridge Homes' most popular model. Features 3 bedrooms, full basement and a living room almost 23 feet long. What's more, the Sherwood, like all Ridge homes, comes with wall-to-wall carpeting, a complete kitchen, bathroom, plenty of closet space, lighting fixtures and just about everything you'd expect from one of the largest home builders in the United States. See us now!

There are eleven models priced between $14,610 and $17,920.

Ten Distinctive Models Under $27,400

THE KIRKWOOD — $25,185* — Four bedrooms, 2½ baths, a living room over 25 feet long, a laundry, full basement, large closets... you get the idea. Cabinets, appliances, fixtures... everything comes with a Ridge home. You can save thousands by doing some of the interior finishing yourself! You'll find the whole story in the Ridge magazine.

There are ten models priced between $22,505 and $27,305.

Fourteen Choices Under $21,990

THE CRESTWOOD — $19,555* — This bi-level has 3 large bedrooms on the upper level. The lower level has room for a great family room with an adjoining den, spacious utility room, powder room and garage. With Ridge Homes, you always get the home you want at a price you can afford. Reason enough for 25,000 families to choose Ridge. See for yourself!

There are fourteen models priced between $18,305 and $21,985.

Low Down Payment Mortgage Plans

HERE'S THE BEST PART — We have a choice of three mortgage plans for qualified buyers who own (or can get) a building lot free and clear. The down payment is almost always just $100. As one of America's largest home builders, we have our own financial resources to help our customers build their homes when they want them. Our rates are competitive, no "points" to pay, and closing costs are minimal.

*Prices shown are for homes semi-constructed on owner's lot and include materials, appliances and fixtures to completely finish the interior. Local taxes and transportation charges, landscaping, sidewalks and driveways are not included. An example of financing: an amount of $18,000, less the $100 down payment at an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 9.25% would require fifteen monthly payments of $150.01 each and then 177 payments of $186.64. Deferred payment price — $35,385.43. (the sum of the down payment plus all monthly payments over 16 years). Such Ridge mortgage plans not available in Vermont, Illinois, Maine, Kentucky, New Jersey and North Carolina. However, other attractive plans are.

Stop Waiting to get started on your dream home. You probably have all the cash you need. You'll find the whole exciting story in our free 88-page Ridge Homes Magazine. It features an article by Francis Reers who, like most of our customers, had a Ridge home built on his lot with just $100 down. Over 25,000 families own Ridge homes — and so can you.

Just think... you can custom-design your home just as they did. You get the exact home you want, and an easy way to afford the home you choose. The Reers family saved $4,000 by doing some of the interior finishing themselves. Our free Ridge Magazine tells you how.

2 men indicted on fraud charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County Grand Jury has indicted Emil R. George of Huntington, W. Va., and Charles L. Fryling of Riverside, Calif., in connection with what was termed a nationwide tape manufacturing fraud.

Indictments charged the pair with bilking over 300 investors in 19 states out of about $3 million. Twenty-four Ohio cities were involved.

Prosecutors said the two offered investors franchises for manufacture of eight-track tape recordings, saying their firm, Art Sales, Inc., would buy back the manufactured tape.

Houk optimistic in late spring

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Detroit Manager Ralph Houk is loaded with late spring optimism.

The reason is obvious: The Tigers completed a sweep of a three-game series with the Kansas City Royals with Thursday night's 9-7 victory—their fifth consecutive triumph.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A mixture of 3-year-olds, including graduates of small track racing and major stakes winners such as Judger, was set to battle for glory and gold Saturday in the 100th Kentucky Derby.

The added prestige of this centennial Derby, the general inconsistency of this year's 3-year-olds and a record purse drew the most contenders ever for the famed 1¼-mile race at Churchill Downs.

If all 23 start, which would break the record of 22 in 1928 when Reigh Count won, the purse will be $326,500, with $274,000 to the winner. The big pot—the old record was $198,800 last year when Secretariat won—was due to a record 290 nominations at $100 each and increases from $2,500 to $4,000 to enter and from $1,500 to $3,500 to start.

The Woody Stephens-trained entry of Seth Hanock's Judger and John M. Olin's Cannonade was made the early 8-5 favorite Thursday while the Sigmond Sommer pair of Rube The Great and Accipiter was second at 9-2.

"He's gonna be taken back anyway," Stephens said after the stretch-running Judger drew the No. 22 post position. The Blue Grass Stakes and Florida Derby winner will be ridden by Laffit Pincay Jr.

"The other horse can get a position fast," said Stephens of Stepping Stone winner Cannonade, who will start under Angel Cordero from the No. 2 post. In the No. 1 spot is Meeken Stable's Agitate, winner of five of six starts including the California Derby. Agitate is the third choice, at 5-1, and will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker.

"As long as I don't lose my jockey on the break, it doesn't matter what my position is," said Frank "Pancho" Martin, who trains Rube The Great and Accipiter. He was referring to Miguel A. Rivera, who fell off Accipiter shortly after the start of the Stepping Stone.

When the field goes to the post at 5:30 p.m., EDT, Saturday, Rivera will be on Rube The Great, winner of divisions of the Gotham and Wood Memorial, in the No. 12 slot. Angel Santiago will start Accipiter from the No. 4 post.

Other trainers seemed to be more interested in the weather than the post positions. It rained Thursday, but no rain was forecast for Derby Day.

Monte Sims said Kenneth Opteim's Destroyer, upset winner of the Santa Anita Derby, would not go on a muddy track.

"Everything is fine and it will even be better if it keeps raining," said Preston King, trainer of Samuel Lehrman's Triple Crown, a doubles stakes winner.

CBS television coverage is set for 5 p.m. to 6 p.m., EDT.

Testimony to end in Bergey case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The World Football League is expected to complete its defense today against the Cincinnati Bengals suit hoping to prove its right to exist as a competitor.

Testimony is expected to be completed this morning and lawyers from both sides are scheduled to present final arguments, along with briefs, to U.S. District Court Judge David S. Porter Wednesday.

The National Football League Bengals are seeking an injunction to stop the WFL from signing Bengal players to future contracts while they still are under Cincinnati contracts.

The Bengals also want to force the Virginia Ambassadors to take back a $150,000 bonus paid to linebacker Bill Bergey and his contract effective in 1976.

The Bengals said known offers to front line players can do irreparable damage to the team in efforts to win championships while those players' options are being played out.

Testimony so far indicated WFL offers have been made to linemen Pat Matson, John Shinnors and Rufus Mayes, center Bob Johnson, quarterback Ken Anderson, tight end Bob Trumpy and punter Dave Lewis.

The WFL maintains that its new league gives players a freedom of choice and allows them to improve their financial situation in the NFL because of the competition.

WFL attorneys and the Pro Football Players Association have attacked the "Rozelle Rule" under which, they say, players are prevented from playing with the teams of their own choice or from getting bigger salaries.

Under the rule, when a player plays a year beyond his signed contract, his option has run out.

Ellis worried about 'Blass-itis'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A minor case of misdirection or a serious control infection? That's the diagnostic question for "The Dock."

"I just hope it isn't Blassitis," says Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Dock Ellis, who hit three batters to open a game earlier this week with Cincinnati.

The "Blass-itis" reference, which followed Thursday night's rainout of a game with the Reds, was to one-time Pirate pitching ace Steve Blass.

Blass was stricken last season with an acute control infirmity, and now he's toiling in the minors.

Yet even Blass' wildest deliveries weren't as free-flying as the dozen Ellis cut loose to open a 5-3 loss to the Reds Wednesday night.

None of the pitches was a strike. He hit Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Dan Driessen before walking Tony Perez on four pitches to force in a run.

"I threw six warmup pitches when I took the mound and none of them were over the plate either, Ellis said with a relaxed grin after the Thursday night rainout, rescheduled as part of a July 14 doubleheader.

"The funny thing was that I wasn't wild at all when I was warming up in the bullpen," he added in detached amusement.

Ellis' three hit batsmen in one inning tied a major record held by eight other major league pitchers.

"But I'm really not worried that it's anything permanent," said Ellis, whose next start is slated for Sunday against the Atlanta Braves. The Braves open a weekend series here tonight.

"If anything, I'd have to say that maybe I was just too strong out there," he added.

"I had eight days off, including an extra day because of the rainout Tuesday, and that's too much time between starts."

Blancas putts to lead in Nelson Classic

DALLAS (AP) — Despite the rigors and pressures of the professional golf circuit, the game can be fun, says scrambling Homero Blancas.

"Yeah, it's fun out there when you can get it in close and make all those putts," he says.

"Once I get under par I have a tendency to keep on making birdies. I like to make a lot of birdies and then just go."

Such was the case Thursday as the free-wheeling tour veteran rode a hot putting streak and a pair of eagles to a sixunder-par 65 and the first-round lead of the Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Blancas, whose protruding midriff reflects the good life, recorded a 33-82 on the 6,957-yard windswept and waterlogged Preston Trail course in the chase for the top prize of $30,000 in the $150,000 tourney.

That was good for a two-shot lead over a quartet that included Australians Bruce Crampton and Bruce Devlin, New Zealand's Bob Charles and unsung American Bob Payne.

A stroke back at 68 were John Mahaffey, Raymond Floyd, Jim Simons and Rick Rhoads, an unknown Californian who burned the back nine with a sizzling 31.

Lee Trevino, bidding for his first Texas victory, Ben Crenshaw and veterans Bobby Nichols, Billy Casper and Chi Chi Rodriguez headed a group at 69.

A record 30 players in the field of 150 broke par and 17 others equalled it, a fact attributed largely to the soft, true greens.

Blancas, the former University of Houston sharpshooter who has won five times on the tour, said he does not consider the leader's role an uncomfortable one.

"I like to get out front," he said. "I'm

"You've got to have those regular starts or you're going to have problems," he continued, "and I can't remember a year when I've had so many interruptions."

Ellis allowed just 33 walks last season, least among all Pirate starters, and he hit just one batter.

"I can remember a game against the Phillies in '70 when I was really wild," he recalled.

"I didn't make it through the first inning, and one guy stretched out and hit an outside pitch for a home run."

a scrambler and my strong points are my short irons and putting. I just don't hit the ball high enough to win any of the major tournaments. I have to accept my own ability. I don't expect to win a major championship."

Ashe, Tanner pull comeback

MONTREAL (AP) — Americans Arthur Ashe and Roscoe Tanner scored a "normal" come-from-behind victory Thursday night as the $80,000 World Championship Tennis doubles championship began.

Ashe and Tanner, trailing 1-5 in the third set with the match tied 1-1, came back to capture a 7-6, 3-6, 7-6, 7-5 verdict over Ross Case and Geoff Masters of Australia in the opening match.

In the other first-round contest, Frew McMillan and Bob Hewitt of South Africa combined for a 6-4, 7-6, 3-6, 6-3 victory over Sweden's Ove Bengtson and Bjorn Borg.

After his match, Ashe said he and Tanner were kidding each other when they were down by four games in the third set.

"I turned around and told Roscoe that we've been in this position so many times, I'm not even worried," Ashe said.

"It seems like we're always down like this. This is normal for us."

After the short rest, Ashe returned to the court and held his serve to narrow the gap to 5-2. The Americans then turned the pressure on their opponents, breaking Case's serve in the eighth game and Masters' in the 10th to tie the match. They eventually won in a tiebreaker and steam-rolled the Australians in the fourth and deciding set.

Circleville bests field in SCOL

CIRCLEVILLE — Although the South Central Ohio League track meet took three days to run, the teams were still unable to keep Circleville from the SCOL title. As predicted prior to the meet, the Tigers captured their fifth consecutive crown with a 12½ point margin over Hillsboro, Thursday evening.

In the final outcome, the main difference was the Indians' ability to score in the lower three places. Considering first and second places, Hillsboro grabbed six firsts and five seconds compared to Circleville's five firsts and six seconds. However, the Tigers were aided by five thirds, five fourths and two fifth places; while Hillsboro could only manage three thirds and two fourths.

Despite the damp and chilly weather, four new SCOL records were set during the meet. Hillsboro's Jim Buck established two of the new marks in the mile and 880. Buck was clocked in 4:34.6 in the mile and 2:00.5 in the 880.

Hillsboro's mile relay team broke Franklin Heights' 1959 mark of 3:36.2 by running the four laps in 3:34.3. Reggie Radcliff cleared 13' for a new record in the pole vault.

Both of Fayette County's first places were recorded by Washington Senior High tracksters. Tom Allen bested the field in the high hurdles with a time of 16.3. Chuck Wilson leaped 20'8" to win the long jump championship.

Unioto, competing in the SCOL meet for the first time, ran into a lot of problems prior to the meet. The Shermans, who were expected to give Washington a tough battle for third place, had to go without the services of two of their top tracksters. Randy Sprouse still had not recovered from his pulled hamstring and he missed the 100, 220, long jump and mile relay. Ron Hannan, one of the top quarter-milers in the SCOL and a member of the mile relay team, honored the Unioto teachers' strike and did not cross the picket line.

Hall sidelined by cut finger

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds ace reliever Tommy Hall was scheduled to return home today for further medical examination after he severely cut the middle finger of his pitching hand in the shower room at Pittsburgh.

"It didn't hurt. I didn't even know I'd done it until I saw the bleeding," said the lefthander who has given up only one run in nine innings of relief work this season.

Hall is expected to miss at least two weeks. Rookies Pat Osborn was elevated to the short relief spot. Hall received seven stitches and a small cast on the finger.

Hall was injured after the Reds-Pirates game was called because of rain. He said the soap dish in the shower room was broken and he cut himself on a jagged edge.

"The doctor said he could see the tendon and said if I'd cut it I would have had big trouble," said the 26-year-old hurler in obvious relief.

"I've got to find out what he can do," said Manager George "Sparky" Anderson of his decision to use Osborn, "and this is as good a time as any."

Meanwhile, the Reds were reacting to a decision of an arbitration board that reversed fines placed last year against outfielder Bobby Tolan. The arbitrators ruled the Reds must return $350 in fines to Tolan, who is now with the San Diego Padres.

Reds President Bob Howsam branded the decision "very unfair."

"Our people here and our fans are aware of what happened and many of them saw for themselves at the ball park. To us, that is the important thing."

The ruling followed a hearing in Detroit in January by a board that included Detroit arbitrator Gabriel Alexander, Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association and John Gaharin representing the owners.

Anderson said he had "no feelings about it" although he blamed himself earlier for Tolan's dispute with management.

"The ball club has been fair always to everyone," said catcher John Bench. "It wanted to win the case, but since Tolan was gone, didn't try. It presented it's case without really any witnesses."

Joe Morgan, second baseman, said the ruling was just "because the first problem started with the club." Pete Rose agreed.

Walton to ink contract with NBA's Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — Bill Walton, UCLA's basketball superstar with an inclination toward gardening, will sign to play with the Portland Trail Blazers of the National Basketball Association, says the redhaired All-American's lawyer.

It is estimated Walton will receive at least $2 million in the multiyear agreement.

"He wants to buy acreage in a secluded area and raise vegetables," said Sam Gilbert, Walton's business adviser.

Walton will travel to Portland Saturday after signing a contract to play for the Trail Blazers, Herman Sarkowsky, president of the team, said Thursday.

The 6-foot-11, 220-pound center has kept his intentions a mystery since finishing his college career and indicated at one time he might not even play professional basketball if it meant he had to move from the West Coast.

The San Diego Conquistadors hold the American Basketball Association rights to Walton but were unsuccessful in trying to woo him to play for the ABA in his hometown.

Two groups hoping to establish ABA franchises in Los Angeles also wanted Walton, who in three seasons at UCLA became the most accurate shooter in National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball history, making 65 per cent of his shots.

The ABA offers may have exceeded

Portland's in terms of cash, but Gilbert said variables other than economics influenced Walton's decision. The Encino, Calif., businessman was reached by phone in California.

Portland picked Walton as its first draft choice after a coin flip with Philadelphia, which shared last-place with the Trail Blazers in the final NBA standings.

Gilbert said Walton would notify the losers personally in the bidding for his services.

Erving sparks Nets' win

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The Utah Stars, burned by Julius Erving's fireworks, hunted today for a way to defuse the New York Nets in the American Basketball Association championship series.

The Stars, usually known for their scoring outbursts, were groping for a defensive strategy to hinder New York's Dr. J Saturday night in game No. 2 of the best-of-seven series.

A 47-point scoring display by Erving, the ABA's Most Valuable Player, led the Nets to the 89-85 victory Tuesday night while shooting difficulties plagued most of the other players in the game.

They'll Do It Every Time

Youth Activities

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 1203
April has been a pretty full month for Girl Scout Troop 1203. In April we made string art pictures of crosses for Easter. We have planned a camping trip with another troop and made Mother's Day gifts for our mothers. We worked on Magic Show posters, for the show planned for May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Washington Junior High School.

On April 25 we attended a meeting with Troop 612, with whom we will go on the camping trip.

We completed plans for the bake sale to be held at Buckeye Mart and also at the Downtown Drug Store at 10 a.m.

Spiritism has big following among Latins

By ELAINE DE ABREU

SÃO PAULO, Brazil (AP) - Spiritism—a religion that believes in clairvoyance and reincarnation—is active in this South American country.
But Brazilian mediums are critical of U. S. spiritualists who charge money for seances.

"Mediums should always work for free," said Reinaldo Soares Pinheiro, general secretary of the Sao Paulo Spiritist Federation. "The Gospel says that mediumistic powers are given free. But we know that some mediums in the United States charge for their services."

Brazilian spiritists say they are among the few true followers of spiritual principles codified by French thinker Alain Kardec.
Mediums here make it a point to differentiate themselves from most of their counterparts in the United States. "There they call it spiritualism. In Brazil it's spiritism," Pinheiro explained.

One exception is the Christian Spirit Center in Elon College, N. C., which Brazilians say was founded by their most famous medium, Francisco Xavier.

Pinheiro said the North Carolina center is "supervised by Americans who sympathize with our spiritist movement."

BRAZILIAN spiritists say the purpose of their religion is to establish links between human beings and God. One way they try to do this is by communicating with the dead, using clairvoyance — the power of perceiving things not readily noted by the senses — and psychography—the ability to record the words of dead people.

Xavier claims to have both these powers.

The Spiritist Federation in Sao Paulo, Brazil's most populous and industrialized state, was founded in 1936. It seeks to develop mediumistic powers in young people and offers spiritual guidance to the population in general.

Since the federation does not charge for its instruction, it must raise money from donations and an annual spring fair and auction.

Part of the profits from the most recent fair will help finish construction of a new headquarters building for the federation. The rest will go to people the spiritists care for.

"Many persons come to us completely desperate, hoping we can give them orientation in life," said Oslavia Brz Leonis, an executive of the federation's social department.

"Besides offering them moral support, which is always done through the Gospel, we sometimes give these people financial aid until they are able to support themselves."

In 1972, more than 33 million persons visited Japan's ancient capital, Kyoto, 3 million more than in 1971.

Two persons charged in city mishaps

Six accidents were reported in Washington C.H. Thursday, and two people were cited by city police for traffic violations.

8:46 p.m. — A minor accident involved a car driven by Mary F. Williams, 20, of 717 Brown St., and a parked automobile owned by Clarence J. Tipton, Sabina, in the Econ-O-Wash lot, 420 W. Oaklaid Ave.

6:48 p.m. — An accident at the Court and Fayette street intersection involved cars driven by Betty Lou Sicker, 43, Rt. 6 and Maynard W. Carr, 67, of 523 N. North St. Damage was minor to the Carr car and moderate to the Sicker vehicle. Both drivers told police they had the green light.

4:42 p.m. — A three-car accident occurred in the 900 block of Columbus Avenue, involving cars driven by Loucreatie Cohagen, 19, Columbus; Clark M. Leeth, 48, of 834 Broadway, and Darrell D. Marks, 36, Rt. 5.

The Cohagen car struck the Leeth vehicle in the rear and then glanced off into the oncoming traffic, hitting the Marks car.

Ms. Cohagen was cited by police for not maintaining an assured clear distance. Her car and the Leeth vehicle were moderately damaged, while the Marks auto had only slight damage.

4:16 p.m. — A semi, driven by David Allen Clark, 23, Zanesville, struck a tree, which in turn fell on a parked car owned by Vivian I. Myers, Greenfield, while he was turning left off Sycamore Street, onto Broadway. The tree was on property owned by Kenneth L. Chaney, 741 Market St.

Clark was charged with reckless operation by police. His semi was damaged severely and the parked car slightly. (See photo).

3:44 p.m. — A minor accident between cars driven by Chris A. Eley, 17, Greenfield, and Glenn H. Morrow, 23, of 1025 Dayton Ave., occurred at the intersection of Columbus Avenue and Elm Street.

11:48 a.m. — Moderate damage was reported in a collision between a truck driven by Leroy E. Mongold, 19, of 217 East St., and a van driven by Mark D. Thellmann, 14½ S. Fayette St., in an accident on Washington Avenue, near the Grove Avenue intersection.

GOP hopefuls speak during club meeting

Fayette County commissioner candidates John E. Rhoads, J.W. (Boots) Sears and Carl Wilt Sr., reviewed their qualifications and discussed their views of county-wide progress and problems during a meeting of the Fayette County Republican Club Thursday night in the Benton Room of the Washington Hotel.

James A. Kiger, unopposed candidate for county prosecuting attorney, and Richard Keiser and John L. Rhoad, candidates seeking a seat on the Republican Central Committee from Union Township, also addressed club members.

Mrs. Charlene Cunningham, a Republican member of the Fayette County Board of Elections, explained the boundary that divides Fayette County, placing the eastern townships in the 88th Ohio House District and the western townships and the city of Washington C.H. in the 77th House District.

Rhoad, president of the Fayette County Republican Club, said during a wide-ranging discussion, two areas of possible Republican club activity in the future included sponsoring a practical politics course prepared by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and regular meetings to update members and other interested citizens on the status of legislation before Congress and the Ohio Legislature.

In a case reported in 1888, a 15-year-old female patient yawned continuously for a period of five weeks.

A FALL SCENE? — Yes, the leaves fell about six months prematurely Thursday afternoon in the vicinity of the Washington Lumber Co. In fact, most of the tree fell! The semi driver, David A. Clark, 23, Zanesville, was charged by city police with reckless operation when he apparently took a corner too wide and collided with the tree, which, in turn, fell on a parked car.

Dean testimony

allow extra time for the panel's staff to work information from the White House transcripts into the final report.

Wednesday, Samuel Dash, the committee's chief counsel, said the deadline would be met but that the committee might decide to file a supplemental report at a later date if that became necessary.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said no such request had been made to him but that he expects the Senate would be sympathetic if the request were made.

"Much of the testimony of John Dean has been corroborated," Baker said, adding that he based his opinion on reading about half of the massive set of transcripts.

He said any evidence of conflicting statements and apparent perjury would be given to the Justice Department for possible prosecution.

Baker also advised the House Judiciary Committee now considering Nixon's possible impeachment to "keep its cool" in dealing with the White House.

"I rather expect if they keep patient there will be more evidence from the White House to come," he said without elaborating.

Baker also said it is his opinion the House panel should be allowed to complete the impeachment investigation before the Watergate committee issues its report.

The Tennessee Republican said he would not be surprised if special prosecutor Leon Jaworski asked for a similar delay until the trials of the Watergate cover-up defendants are completed.

The White House transcript supports Dean's testimony that he told the President March 21, 1973, that Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt was demanding $120,000 to remain silent and that Nixon told Dean it would be no problem to raise $1 million in cash for such purposes.

Ervin noted that H.R. Haldeman, the former White House chief of staff, testified under oath he had listened to the tape of that meeting and that Nixon had said that while there would be no problem in raising the money it would be "wrong" to do so.

"The transcript puts that word, that quotation, somewhere else," Ervin said.

"It has nothing to do with the payment of money," he said. "On the contrary, they were discussing executive clemency and the transcript indicated the President said they couldn't grant it before the (1972) elections and that Mr. Dean said that it would be a very unwise policy to grant executive clemency after the elections."

"And that is when the President said, 'that would be wrong,'" Ervin told reporters. He added: "That means, as I construe it, that it would be politically wrong. Not that there would be any immoral iniquity in it, but just politically wrong."

SWORL group holds meeting

Sixty Southwestern Ohio Rural Library trustees, librarians and special guests from Adams, Brown, Clinton, Clermont, Fayette and Highland counties met at the Elks Country Club in Hillsboro to hear Jerry Grim, director, and Emelyne Ely Reed, president of the Ohio Valley Area Libraries organization board.

The OVAL organization is the first state funded, multi-county library system in Ohio. The organization's headquarters is located in Wellston.

Special guests included Sen. Max Dennis, Chapman Parsons, Ohio Library Association executive director, and Mrs. Parsons; and John Phillip, state library consultant.

Attending from the Carnegie Public Library in Washington C.H. were Kris Ambsary, librarian; Kathryn Lee, trustee; Jeannette Coffee, Martha Gardner and Evelynne Entrekin, staff members.
